Wheeler & Wilson's
LOCK-STITCH
SEWING MACHINES.

THESE UNEQUALLED MACHINES are adapted to every variety of sewing for family wear, from the lightest muslin to the heaviest cloths. They work equally well upon silk, linen, woollen, and cotton goods, with silk, cotton, or linen thread. They will seam, quilt, gather, hem, fell, cord, braid, bind, and perform every species of sewing, making a beautiful and perfect stitch, alike on both sides of the article sewed.

The QUALITIES which recommend the Wheeler & Wilson Machines are:

1. Beauty and excellence of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed.
2. Strength, firmness, and durability of seam, that will not rip nor ravel.
3. Economy of thread.
4. Its attachments and wide range of application to purposes and materials.
5. Compactness and elegance of model and finish
6. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction.
7. Speed, ease of operation and management, and quietness of movement.

General Grant Cook Stove,
The only Stove in market constructed upon scientific principles.
We feel assured in calling the attention of the public to this Stove, that we have a Stove superior to anything in the market.
A large class of diseases arise from the poisonous gases and vapors saturating our food during the baking process, and infecting the atmosphere of the room.
We have met this demand by furnishing a Stove with an Oven into which there is a Constant Flow of Fresh Heated Air,
Combining with and carrying those gases and vapors up the chimney.

Ritchie's Liquid Compass!
THE Ritchie Compass which has been the standard Compass in the navy for upwards of four years, and also in extensive use in the merchant service, should be used on every class of vessels where a compass is to be depended on. It combines all the qualities of a perfect instrument. To extreme sensitiveness and perfect steadiness is added a strength and durability which prevents them from getting out of order like other compasses. The reason for this is apparent to any one upon examination. A single trial of this compass has always resulted in its adoption and the rejection of every other kind.

Despatches to the Evening Times.

The Illinois Election—Large Republican Gains.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.

The mines have declared dividends as follows: Empire 16; Savage 75; Yellow Jacket 50.

The bark Endeavor arrived today from the Ochosk sea with 650 bbls. of oil and 8000 lbs. of bone. She reports whalers as follows:

Josephine with 1150 bbls; Onward 1150 bbls; J. D. Thompson 1100 bbls; Sunbeam 525 bbls.; Sea Breeze 650 bbls.; W. Roach 750 bbls.; Java 600 bbls.; Active 220 bbls.; Cicero 200 bbls.; Rainbow 150 bbls.; Washington 60 bbls.; Wm. Henry 250 bbls.; Oregon 300 bbls.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.

Sixty counties in this State give a republican majority of 43,000 votes, a gain of 28,000 since 1864.

The Legislature stands about as follows: Senate 16 republicans to 9 democrats; House 68 republican to 27 democrats.

WESTCHESTER, Pa., Nov. 9.

The large flour mill at Chadsford on the Brandywine river fell today from the pressure of 17,000 bushels of wheat. Two men were killed, and most of the wheat was washed down the stream.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.

A New Orleans despatch says there are fears in commercial circles of an approaching financial crisis, owing to the failure of the cotton crop and scarcity of money.

Private advices from the Rio Grande say that a mutinous spirit is apparent in the Liberal army, owing to Ortega's presence on the frontier, and that his emissaries are getting up a powerful party in his favor.

QUEBEC, Nov. 9.

A large number of men of Her Majesty's steamer Aurora are under orders to hold themselves in readiness to proceed to the western lakes, where they will be stationed for the winter. Intelligence has been received that owing to the failure of the fisheries of Labrador, the coast inhabitants on the north shore have been rendered destitute, unless relief is immediately provided. The herring fishories are said to be a complete failure, and the prospects are said to be fearful to contemplate.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 10.

Dr. John H Blake was assassinated at Nolen's Furnace, Edmesten county, Tuesday cause not yet developed.

The Major General commanding this department announces that he will permit no military display over the remains of Ex-Gen Boyer and W Hanson, which are expected here tomorrow en route to Lexington for interment.

Letter from New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7, 1866.

The election is over. The smoke is fast clearing away. Reuben E. Fenton is elected governor by about thirteen thousand majority. The Republicans elect 20 out of 31 members of Congress, and 84 out of 128 members of the House of Assembly. The Senators hold over and stand 25 Republicans to 7 Democrats. Only 13 out of 60 counties give majorities for Hoffman.

While never a moment abating in my faith in the election of the Republican State ticket, I have been constantly expecting monstrous development in this city. The spurious certificates of naturalization granted by one or two of our judges led us to expect anything. To use a phrase of the lobby, "the job had been put up" to elect Hoffman; and the most unscrupulous means were employed to carry it into effect. A full estimate of the Democratic vote in the country had been made, and then the hopper filled for the purpose of adding enough in this city to make up a majority. It was a fitting conspiracy. The last energies of the Democratic party were put forth; now it will fall back, die and be wrapped up in cero-cloths. The fashion of this world passeth away; and now the Democratic party goeth with it,—aye, even with the money of Simon the Magus.

Gen. Seymour discoursed here about the importance of an intelligent minority to restrain a majority in Congress. It is often well to have such minorities. But the Democratic party has forfeited all title to be considered in that light. With Representatives like John Fox and John Morrissey, Fernando Wood and Michael C. Kerr, men of no moral tone, and in sympathy with the rebellion, it has no claim to respectful consideration. It is without a cardinal principle, and has affirmed none for years. Let the Democratic party pass.

There was any amount of execration in the Democratic circles yesterday. After having paid money without stint, broken lawe, and piled up a vote from men that a policeman cannot find, they now curse their country friends for not coming to time. Any amount of money is changing hands in payment of debts.

Of all our factious, the Johnson Republicans came out the most pitiful and ridiculous. They are nowhere. They have supported Hoffman and the Ring, voted for proslavery rule, and come out badly off. They run a candidate for Supervisor, and only made a respectable show for him by begging Democratic votes. While Fenton received 33,462, Shaler, the Republican Supervisor, had 32,906—556 less; while at the same time Taylor, the Conservative, received 18,100 to 45,044 for Herriman, the Democrat—a total of 63,144, to Hoffmans 30,128. So that pitiful farce of Weed and his friends is played out.—[Cor. Boston Adv.

A man's short distance out from a city says no one need tell him this advertising won't cause a big rush for the advertised ten bushels of grapes for sale, and the next morning there were two left—the boys stole 'em all.

CONTRADICTIONS OF THE ENGLISH TONGUE. Under this head a late number of a new magazine has an entertaining article on the inconsistencies and ambiguities of the English language, from which we take the following extracts:

The language is full of paradoxes. 'Show me a fire,' said a traveller to the landlord, 'for I am very wet: and,' he added, 'bring me a mug of ale, for I am very dry.' 'You walk very slow,' said a man to a consumptive. 'Yes,' he replied, 'but I am going very fast.' Breaking both wings of an army is almost certain to make it fly; a General may win the day in a battle fought at night; a lawyer may convey a house, and yet be unable to lift a hundred pounds; a room may be full of married men and not have a single man in it, a traveler who is detained an hour or two may recover most of the time by making a minute of it; a man killed in a duel has at least one second to live after he is dead; a fire goes out and does not leave the room; a lady may wear a suit out the first day she gets it, and yet put it away at night in as good condition as ever; a schoolmaster with no scholars may yet have a pupil in his eye; the bluntest man in business is generally the sharpest one; Ananias, it is said, told a lie, and yet he was borne out by the bystanders; oxen can only eat corn with the mouth, yet you can give it to them in the ear; food bolted down is not the most likely to remain on the stomach; soft water is often caught when it rains hard; high words between men are generally low words; steamboat officers are very pleasant company, but we are always glad to give them a wide berth; a nervous man is trembling, faint, weak—a man of nerve, and a nervous style are strong firm and vigorous.

Our phases are not to be construed too literally. Punch tells of a man who was arrested for attempting to damage the river Thames. What was the man doing? He was trying to pull up the stream. So Joseph's brethren have been excused for putting him into the pit, because it is supposed, they thought it was a good opening for a young man. A person who holds fast to the truth so literally that he can never let it escape him, is not to be commended any more than the man who takes the part of a friend when the action refers to a pudding and not to a quarrel. Daphne of old was turned into a tree now-a-days a horse is frequently turned into a field.

Two or three words are strung together, and instead of retaining their combined meaning, acquire a new signification. How differently is the action described in scouring a forest and scouring a floor; in skimming the sea and skimming milk; in breaking a dish, breaking a colt, or breaking a commandment; in catching a train and catching a cold; in falling in a ditch, falling in love, falling in your own estimation, in falling in with a friend or falling out with a friend, or falling out of a carriage. This peculiarity of our words is what renders you so liable to read, in the funny column of some newspaper, of a person who, in an explosion of grief, burst into a flood of tears, and whose remains have not yet been found; or who carried out a project and was obliged to bring it back again; or who kept his word and so had a quarrel with Noah Webster, who wanted it for his dictionary; or who courted an investigation and was wedded to his own opinions; or who got off a speech and has since been trying to get on again, having found that his train of remarks was not the right one; or who, at a mass meeting, being fired with indignation, was put out; or who being hemmed in with a crowd, has since been troubled with a stitch in his side; or who was lost in slumber, and after wandering for a long time in his own mind, finally got out on a nightmare.

We cut the following from the Boston Journal:

MARYLAND. A Baltimore dispatch says with reference to the reckless taking of the loyal oath:

"This is in obedience to the advice of Reverdy Johnson, who informed the rebels that it would not be perjury for them to take this oath, inasmuch as it was unconstitutional. The registers were all Swann men, and permitted the rebels register. In some precincts the loyalty of rebels was tested by the question whether when negro regiments were facing Lee, s army they hoped the former would be whipped, and they swore they did. A place calld Blue Tavern, in Baltimore county out on the Philadelphia road, was taken possession of early this morning by a large party of roughs, who are employed in the Baltimore Custom House, and held all day, allowing only rebels to vote They wore completely armed with muskets' carbines and revolvers' and lay along all the fences leading to the place challenging approaching voters, and turning back if they intended voting the Union ticket. Not a loyal man voted after they arrived. A Union man just arrived from there says if he had ventured to protest he would have been killed. Immense crowds are on the street and the excitement is great."

A SHARP DETECTIVE. An American gentleman having seated himself in an omnibus, while on a visit to London, saw and heard what a little amused him. A man, bearing no peculiar marks of authority, looked in at the door, took a professional view of the passengers, and called out to the driver, without any pretence at modest concealment of his thoughts, "You can't go on, there's two of the swell mob in here." The coach waited, until at length a pursy well looking old man rose and stepped out, saying as he did so, "I've too much money to ride with pickpockets." In a moment more a spruce young person said, as he decamped, "I'll follow the old gentleman's lead." "Go on, now," said the detective policeman, "the swells have got out, and all's right."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.

The activity with which the political guillotine has been worked may be illustrated by the fact that over two thousand two hundred changes of postmasters in the North have been made since the 1st of July.

The receipts from internal revenue, it is now thought, will be considerably above the estimate. They are nearly up to those of last year, notwithstanding the numerous modifications of the law. The receipts from customs at the port of New York, from the 20th to the 31st of October, were $8,569,933.

MORE DISCOVERIES OF THE SIR JOHN FRANKLIN EXPEDITION. The captain and part of the crew of the American whaling ship Antelope, which was lost at Niantelik Island on the 6th of October last, recently arrived at St. Johns, in steamers from the Artic Ocean. The St. Johns Commercial Journal says:

The officers of the Antelope bring interesting information of discoveries made by Mr. C. F. Hall respecting the Franklin expedition. Mr. Hall has in his possession a gold watch, some silver spoons and other relics supposed to have belonged to the Franklin party. He also learns, that the remains of some of Franklin's men were lying under a boat in Committee Bay, where they had been placed by the natives after death. The natives would not permit Mr. Hall to go to examine them, but as several vessels will winter in Repulse Bay, it is believed Mr. Hall will secure assistance and push his way to where the remains are situated.

LIFE ASSURANCE. At no time has the public mind been more disposed to enter upon the provident course of Life Insurance than at the present moment. Life Insurance has become one of the permanent and philanthropic institutions of the age, and now challenges the admiration of the world. Says Dr. Franklin: "A policy of Life Insurance is the cheapest and safest mode of making a certain provision for one's family."

It is not only a wise and benevolent institution, but for the security and comfort of existence, there is nothing more effective and reliable. The question of to-day is whether a man can justify himself in neglecting to insure. Says the late Lord Lyndhurst, Chancellor of England: "A policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of provident forethought, and no man with a dependent family is free from reproach if his life is not insured."

Life Insurance relieves one from much anxious care and apprehension. It tends to prolong life by relieving it of anxiety. We hasten to insure property, as a prudential matter, because it may burn. How much more necessary to insure life, for we must die, and we know not how soon. There are eight chances that we may die within a week, to one that our house will burn in that time.

Against all the uncertainty in business comes the certainty of Life Insurance. By insurance one places himself above the contingencies of life. Life Insurance possesses exclusively the power of creating at once an adequate provision against the destitution of dependents in case of death. As far as he can do it the head of the family should make some provision that does not depend on his own life.

SEVENTY STEAMSHIPS OWNED BY ONE COMPANY. Trieste, a city scarcely known here, and whose inhabitants barely exceed a hundred thousand in number, boasts of a steam marine more numerous, costly and powerful than that of all the States of New England. One single company in that metropolis, whose moles and quays are so constantly thronged with Hebrews, Greeks, Armenians, and Americans, owns not less than seventy steamers. It is called the Austrian Lloyd Company, and was founded as far back as 1833; and some idea may be formed of the variety and extent of its transactions, from the fact that it runs twelve regular lines of steam vessels every month, and is at once a great marine insurance, and a financial company, as well as a steamship company, that it has agents in every bourse in the world, supports enormous printing and engraving offices, publishes three journals in two different languages, has shipyards, boiler shops, arsenals, in a word, a naval organization vast enough to make the Austrian seaport, where it is located, almost a nation.

ANOTHER STROKE OF POLICY BY NAPOLEON. It is currently reported in Paris that the Emperor and his new minister are perfecting a project to bring about a union of the Christians in Turkey and Greece with Rome; to offer to the Pope in exchange for Rome, Jerusalem; to make Jerusalem the centre of the New Dispensation, as it was of the old. In this case, Italy can have Rome as well as Venice, and complete her unity. There is something in this idea that appeals to the imagination, but there may be some slight difficulties in the way of its accomplishment.

Baron James de Rothschild is in a critical state of health. He is the only surviving son of the founder of the house, is chief of the Paris branch of the Rothschilds, and the most eminent financier of the whole family.

ITEMS IN GENERAL.

—A man's wife in South Bend, Ohio, presented her husband with a very fine boy.—Next morning the man stepped into the Mayor's office and stated that the night previous a fellow came into his house, stark naked; that he was there yet. Three policemen at once started on the run to oust the intruder. When they got to the house they asked to see the fellow that had come in there the night before. The nurse brought out the baby.

—"I wish I could prevail upon neighbor Binder to keep the Sabbath," said good Mr. Johnson. "I'll tell you how to do it," exclaimed the incisive young Smith: "get somebody to lend it to him, and I'll be bound that he'll keep it. He was never yet known to return anything that he borrowed."

—How to cultivate presence of mind is a question often asked and seldom answered; but the Washington Star suggests, as a means of ascertaining a man's resources in a case of emergency, that a vicious dog be set upon him.

—A fire in Paris last month was instantly extinguished by the bursting of three bottles of sulphuric ether, the contents of which, mixing with the atmospheric air, put an end to the combustion.

—A microscope has now been constructed which magnifies an object 1,575,000,000 times. A dollar placed under it would very nearly pay the national debt.

—The Round Table says that "Railroad depots are constructed on the idea that there is no place like home, and it is best for people to stay there."

—The junior Longworth, of Cincinnati, was recently introduced to the poet Longfellow. Upon the peculiar resemblance of their names being remarked, the poet said, "Yes; Worth makes the man, and want of it the fellow."

—"How happy is the elephant, whose wife, when on a journey has only one trunk!" exclaims Punch.

—The St. Stephen Branch Railroad was expected to be completed so as to unite with the St. Andrews road last week, as we learn from the Calais Advertiser.

LOCK-STITCH
SEWING MACHINES.

THESE UNEQUALLED MACHINES are adapted to every variety of sewing for family wear, from the lightest muslins to the heaviest clothe.—They work equally well upon silk, linen, woollen, and cotton goods, with silk, cotton, or linen thread. They will seam, quilt, gather, hem, fell, cord, braid, bind, and perform every species of sewing, making a beautiful and perfect stitch, alike on both sides of the article sewed.

The QUALITIES which recommend the Wheeler & Wilson Machines are:

1. Beauty and excellence of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed.
2. Strength, firmness, and durability of seam, that will not rip nor ravel.
3. Economy of thread.
4. Its attachments and wide range of application to purposes and materials.
5. Compactness and elegance of model and finish.
6. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction.
7. Speed, ease of operation and management, and quietness of movement.

Ritchie's Liquid Compass!
THE Ritchie Compass which has been the standard Compass in the navy for upwards of four years, and also in extensive use in the merchant service, should be used on every class of vessels where a compass is to be depended on. It combines all the qualities of a perfect instrument. To extreme sensitiveness and perfect steadiness is added a strength and durability which prevents them from getting out of order like other compasses. The reason for this is apparent to any one upon examination. A single trial of this compass has always resulted in its adoption and the rejection of every other kind.

The Illinois Election—Large Republican Gains.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.

The mines have declared dividends as follows: Empire 16; Savage 75; Yellow Jacket 50.

The bark Endeavor arrived today from the Ochosk sea with 650 bbls. of oil and 8000 lbs. of bone. She reports whalers as follows:

Josephine with 1150 bbls. Onward 1150 bbls.; J. D. Thompson 1100 bbls; Sanbeam 525 bbls.; Sea Breeze 650 bbls.; W. Roach 750 bbls.; Java 500 bbls.; Active 220 bbls.; Cicero 200 bbls.; Rainbow 150 bbls.; Washington 60 bbls.; Wm. Henry 250 bbls.; Oregon 300 bbls.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.

Sixty counties in this State give a republican majority of 43,000 votes, a gain of 28,000 since 1864.

The Legislature stands about as follows: Senate 16 republicans to 9 democrats; House 68 republican to 27 democrats.

WESTCHESTER, Pa., Nov. 9.

The large flour mill at Chaddsford on the Brandywine river fell today from the pressure of 17,000 bushels of wheat. Two men were killed and most of the wheat was washed down the stream.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.

A New Orleans despatch says there are fears in commercial circles of an approaching financial crisis, owing to the failure of the cotton crop and scarcity of money.

Private advices from the Rio Grande, say that a mutinous spirit is apparent in the Liberal army, owing to Ortega's presence on the frontier, and that his emissaries are getting up a powerful party in his favor.

QUEBEC, Nov. 9.

A large number of men of Her Majesty's steamer Aurora are under orders to hold themselves in readiness to proceed to the western lakes, where they will be stationed for the winter. Intelligence has been received that owing to the failure of the fisheries of Labrador, the coast inhabitants on the north shore have been rendered destitute, unless relief is immediately provided. The herring fisheries are said to be a complete failure, and the prospects are said to be fearful to contemplate.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 10.

Dr. John H Blake was assassinated at Nolen's Furnace, Edmonton county, Tuesday—cause not yet developed.

The Major General commanding this department announces that he will permit no military display over the remains of Ex Gen. Boyer and W Hanson, which are expected here tomorrow en route to Lexington for interment.

Letter from New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7, 1866.

The election is over. The smoke is fast clearing away. Reuben E. Fenton is elected governor by about thirteen thousand majority. The Republicans elect 20 out of 31 members of Congress, and 84 out of 128 members of the House of Assembly. The Senators hold over and stand 25 Republicans to 7 Democrats. Only 13 out of 60 counties give majorities for Hoffman.

While never a moment abating in my faith in the election of the Republican State ticket, I have been constantly expecting monstrous development in this city. The spurious certificates of naturalization granted by one or two of our judges led us to expect anything. To use a phrase of the lobby, "the job had been put up" to elect Hoffman; and the most unscrupulous means were employed to carry it into effect. A full estimate of the Democratic vote in the country had been made; and then the hopper filled for the purpose of adding enough in this city to make up a majority. It was a fitting conspiracy. The last energies of the Democratic party were put forth; now it will fall back, die and be wrapped up in cere-cloths. The fashion of this world passeth away; and now the Democratic party goeth with it,—aye, even with the money of Simon the Magus.

Gen. Seymour discoursed here about the importance of an intelligent minority to restrain a majority in Congress. It is often well to have such minorities. But the Democratic party has forfeited all title to be considered in that light. With Representatives like John Fox and John Morrissey, Fernando Wood and Michael C. Kerr, men of no moral tone, and in sympathy with the rebellion, it has no claim to respectful consideration. It is without a cardinal principle, and has affirmed none for years. Let the Democratic party pass.

There was any amount of execration in the Democratic circles yesterday. After having paid money without stint, broken laws, and piled up a vote from men that a policeman cannot find, they now curse their country friends for not coming to time. Any amount of money is changing hands in payment of debts.

Of all our factions, the Johnson Republicans came out the most pitiful and ridiculous. They are nowhere. They have supported Hoffman and the Ring, voted for proslavery rule, and come out badly off. They run a candidate for Supervisor, and only made a respectable show for him by begging Democratic votes. While Fenton received 33,462, Shaler, the Republican Supervisor, had 32,906—556 less; while at the same time Taylor, the Conservative, received 18,100 to 45,044 for Herrman, the Democrat—a total of 63,144, to Hoffman's 80,128. So that pitiful farce of Weed and his friends is played out.—[Cor. Boston Adv.

A man a short distance out from a city says no one need tell him that advertising won't cause a big rush, for he advertised ten bushels of grapes for sale, and the next morning there wasn't one left—the boys stole 'em all.

CONTRADICTIONS OF THE ENGLISH TONGUE. Under this head a late number of a new magazine has an entertaining article on the inconsistencies and ambiguities of the English language, from which we take the following extracts:

The language is full of paradoxes. 'Show me a fire,' said a traveller to the landlord, 'for I am very wet:' and,' he added, 'bring me a mug of ale, for I am very dry.' 'You walk very slow,' said a man to a consumptive. 'Yes,' he replied, 'but I am going very fast.' Breaking both wings of an army is almost certain to make it fly; a General may win the day in a battle fought at night; a lawyer may convey a house, and yet be unable to lift a hundred pounds; a room may be full of married men and not have a single man in it, a traveler who is detained an hour or two may recover most of the time by making a minute of it; a man killed in a duel has at least one second to live after he is dead; a fire goes out and does not leave the room; a lady may wear a suit out the first day she gets it, and yet put it away at night in as good condition as ever; a schoolmaster with no scholars may yet have a pupil in his eye; the bluntest man in business is generally the sharpest one; Ananias, it is said, told a lie, and yet he was borne out by the bystanders; oxen can only eat corn with the mouth, yet you can give it to them in the ear; food bolted down is not the most likely to remain on the stomach; soft water is often caught when it rains hard; high words between men are generally low words; steamboat officers are very pleasant company, but we are always glad to give them a wide berth; a nervous man is trembling, faint, weak—a man of nerve, and a nervous style are strong firm and vigorous.

Our phases are not to be construed too literally. Punch tells of a man who was arrested for attempting to damage the river Thames. What was the man doing? 'He was trying to pull up the stream. So Joseph's brethren have been excused for putting him into the pit, because it is supposed, they thought it was a good opening for a young man. A person who holds fast to the truth so literally that he can never let it escape him, is not to be commended any more than the man who takes the part of a friend when the action refers to a pudding and not to a quarrel. Daphne of old was turned into a tree; now-a-days a horse is frequently turned into a field.

Two or three words are strung together, and instead of retaining their combined meaning, acquire a new signification. How differently is the action described in scouring a forest and scouring a floor; in skimming the sea and skimming milk; in breaking a dish, breaking a colt, or breaking a commandment; in catching a train and catching a cold; in falling in a dutch, falling in love, falling in your own estimation, in falling in with a friend or falling out with a friend, or falling out of a carriage. This peculiarity of our words is what renders you so liable to read, in the funny column of your newspaper, of a person who, in an explosion of grief, burst into a flood of tears, and whose remains have not yet been found; or who carried out a project and was obliged to bring it back again; or who kept his word and so had a quarrel with Noah Webster, who wanted it for his dictionary; or who courted an investigation and was wedded to his own opinions; or who got off a speech and has since been trying to get on again, having found that his train of remarks was not the right one; or who, at a mass meeting, being fired with indignation, was put out; or who being hemmed in with a crowd, has since been troubled with a stitch in his side; or who was lost in slumber, and after wandering for a long time in his own mind, finally got out on a nightmare.

We cut the following from the Boston Journal:

MARYLAND. A Baltimore dispatch says with reference to the reckless taking of the loyal oath:

"This is in obedience to the advice of Reverdy Jonson, who informed the rebels that it would not be perjury for them to take this oath, inasmuch as it was unconstitutional. The registars were all Swann men, and permitted the rebels register. In some precincts the loyalty of rebels was tested by the question whether when negro regiments were facing Lee, s army they hoped the former would be whipped, and they swore they did. A place calld Blue Tavern, in Baltimore county' out on the Philadelphia road, was taken possession of early this morning by a large party of roughs, who are employed in the Baltimore Custom House, and held all day, allowing only rebels to vote. They were completely armed with muskets' carbines and revolvers' and lay along all the fences leading to the place challenging approaching voters, and turning back if they intended voting the Union ticket. Not a loyal man voted after they arrived. A Union man just arrived from there says if he had ventured to protest he would have been killed. Immense crowds are on the street and the excitement is great."

A SHARP DETECTIVE. An American gentleman having seated himself in an omnibus, while on a visit to London, saw and heard what a little amused him. A man, bearing no peculiar marks of authority, looked in at the door, took a professional view of the passengers, and called out to the driver, without any pretence at modest concealment of his thoughts, "You can't go on, there's two of the swell mob in here." The coach waited, until at length a pursy, well looking old man rose and stepped out, saying as he did so, "I've too much money to ride with pickpockets." In a moment more a spruce young person said, as he decamped, "I'll follow the old gentleman's lead." "Go on, now," said the detective policeman, "the swells have got out, and all's right."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.

The activity with which the political guillotine has been worked may be illustrated by the fact that over two thousand two hundred changes of postmasters in the North have been made since the 1st of July.

The receipts from internal revenue, it is now thought, will be considerably above the estimate. They are nearly up to those of last year, notwithstanding the numerous modifications of the law. The receipts from customs at the port of New York, from the 20th to the 31st of October, were $3,569,933.

MORE DISCOVERIES OF THE SIR JOHN FRANKLIN EXPEDITION. The captain and part of the crew of the American whaling ship Antelope, which was lost at Niantelik Island on the 6th of October last, recently arrived at St. Johns, in steamers from the Actic Ocean. The St. Johns Commercial Journal says:

The officers of the Antelope bring interesting information of discoveries made by Mr. C. F. Hall respecting the Franklin expedition. Mr. Hall has in his possession a gold watch, some silver spoons and other relics supposed to have belonged to the Franklin party. He also learns that the remains of some of Franklin's men were lying under a boat in Committee Bay, where they had been placed by the natives after death. The natives would not permit Mr. Hall to go on to examine them, but as several vessels will winter in Repulse Bay, it is believed Mr. Hall will secure assistance and push his way to where the remains are situated.

LIFE ASSURANCE. At no time has the public mind been more disposed to enter upon the provident course of Life Insurance than at the present moment. Life Insurance has become one of the permanent and philanthropic institutions of the age, and now challenges the admiration of the world. Says Dr. Franklin: "A policy of Life Insurance is the cheapest and safest mode of making a certain provision for one's family."

It is not only a wise and benevolent institution, but for the security and comfort of existence, there is nothing more effective and reliable. The question of to-day is whether a man can justify himself in neglecting to insure. Says the late Lord Lyndhurst, Chancellor of England: "A policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of provident forethought, and no man with a dependent family is free from reproach if his life is not insured."

Life Insurance relieves one from much anxious care and apprehension. It tends to prolong life by relieving it of anxiety. We hasten to insure property, as a prudential matter, because it may burn. How much more necessary to insure life, for we must die, and we know not how soon. There are eight chances that we may die within a week, to one that our house will burn in that time.

Against all the uncertainty in business comes the certainty of Life Insurance. By insurance one places himself above the contingencies of life. Life Insurance possesses exclusively the power of creating at once an adequate provision against the destitution of dependents in case of death. As far as he can do it the head of the family should make some provision that does not depend on his own life.

SEVENTY STEAMSHIPS OWNED BY ONE COMPANY. Trieste, a city scarcely known here, and whose inhabitants barely exceed a hundred thousand in number, boasts of a steam marine more numerous, costly and powerful than that of all the States of New England. One single company in that metropolis, whose moles and quays are so constantly thronged with Hebrews, Greeks, Armenians, and Americans, owns not less than seventy steamers. It is called the Austrian Lloyd Company, and was founded as far back as 1833; and some idea may be formed of the variety and extent of its transactions, from the fact that it runs twelve regular lines of steam vessels every month, and is at once a great marine insurance, and a financial company, as well as a steamship company, that it has agents in every bourse in the world, supports enormous printing and engraving offices, publishes three journals in two different languages, has shipyards, boiler shops, arsenals, in a word, a naval organization vast enough to make the Austrian seaport, where it is located, almost a nation.

ANOTHER STROKE OF POLICY BY NAPOLEON. It is currently reported in Paris that the Emperor and his new minister are perfecting a project to bring about a union of the Christians in Turkey and Greece with Rome; to offer to the Pope in exchange for Rome, Jerusalem; to make Jerusalem the centre of the New Dispensation, as it was of the old. In this case, Italy can have Rome as well as Venice, and complete her unity. There is something in this idea that appeals to the imagination, but there may be some slight difficulties in the way of its accomplishment.

Baron James de Rothschild is in a critical state of health. He is the only surviving son of the founder of the house, is chief of the Paris branch of the Rothschilds, and the most eminent financier of the whole family.

ITEMS IN GENERAL.

—A man's wife in South Bend, Ohio, presented her husband with a very fine boy.—Next morning the man stepped into the Mayor's office and stated that the night previous a fellow came into his house, stark naked; that he was there yet. Three policemen at once started on the run to oust the intruder. When they got to the house they asked to see the fellow that had come in there the night before. The nurse brought out the baby.

—"I wish I could prevail upon neighbor Binder to keep the Sabbath," said good Mr. Johnson. "I'll tell you how to do it," exclaimed the incisive young Smith; "get somebody to lend it to him, and I'll be bound that he'll keep it. He was never yet known to return anything that he borrowed."

—How to cultivate presence of mind is a question often asked and seldom answered, but the Washington Star suggests, as a means of ascertaining a man's resources in a case of emergency, that a vicious dog be set upon him.

—A fire in Paris last month was instantly extinguished by the bursting of three bottles of sulphuric ether, the contents of which, mixing with the atmospheric air, put an end to the combustion.

—A microscope has now been constructed which magnifies an object 1,575,000,000 times. A dollar placed under it would very nearly pay the national debt.

—The Round Table says that "Railroad depots are constructed on the idea that there is no place like home, and it is best for people to stay there."

—The junior Longworth, of Cincinnati was recently introduced to the poet Longfellow. Upon the peculiar resemblance of their names being remarked, the poet said, "Yes, 'Worth makes the man, and want of it the fellow.'"

—"How happy is the elephant, whose wife, when on a journey, has only one trunk!" exclaims Punch.

—The St. Stephen Branch Railroad was expected to be completed so as to unite with the St. Andrews road last week, as we learn from the Calais Advertiser.

The Action of the South upon the Amendment.

The rejection of the constitutional amendment by the Georgia Legislature, by a practically unanimous vote, as stated in the despatches of Saturday, may be resonably supposed to indicate the general feeling of the late rebels throughout the South—and it is not therefore probable that there will be enough ratifications by Southern States, to secure the adoption of the amendment by a three-fourths vote of all the States. It is just possible that if President Johnson shall withdraw his opposition, and throw the weight of his official influence in favor of the amendment, urging the South to adopt it as the only alternative to more unpalatable conditions, the necessary ratifications may be secured—but the compact adverse vote in the Georgia Legislature—given after the result of all the fall elections—allows but faint expectation of such a result. President Johnson, too, is reported as being still obstinately and blindly determined upon carrying out "his policy"—notwithstanding the decisive and warning verdict of the people against it, and in dogged opposition to the open advice of even his most "conservative" newspaper organs and leading advisers. If this be true, of course there is no chance of the amendment receiving rebel support.

What Congress will do, if the ratification fails, it is not for us to say—but what it will not do is plain enough. It will not admit representatives from the late rebel States, until proper conditions are complied with. The instructions just given them by the people at the polls, are clear and significant enough on that point. What the conditions hereafter may be cannot now be fully conjectured—but we may confidently believe that they will not be less effective in their nature than those heretofore offered. We can say moreover, that the public mind of the loyal States is rapidly becoming settled upon one point—that impartial suffrage at least, if not universal suffrage, shall be required—and that other terms may be made as light as the safety of the country's debt and finances, and the sure establishment of equal rights, will allow.

In an article written some time since, conjecturing this state of things, the New York Post, which has sometimes been quoted with high approbation by the Johnson papers, had the following remarks:

What, then, will be the result if the amendment fails? It is plain, in the first place, that we shall be condemned still longer to the condition in which the country, to its very great injury, has been for now eighteen months—a condition which we have called anarchical, and which would be as bad as that of Mexico, were it not that our people have more patience, and have not yet fallen into the habit of shooting each other for political differences.

But this is not all; we could not stand still where we are. Political parties will inevitably divide upon an issue of extremes. We think it may be said that this issue will be between a party on the one hand who will demand the admission to Congress, and to all political power, of all the leaders in the late rebellion, and a party on the other hand who will demand the utmost severity of punishment for those leaders, and universal or impartial suffrage in all the states, as the only security for the nation.

That this is the tendency of parties no one can doubt who bears in mind that the copperhead leaders look to an alliance with the copperhead leaders look to an alliance with the leaders in the late rebellion, as their only hope of a political future; they must, in the nature of things, demand for these allies of theirs all political rights and privileges: while the so-called radical wing of the Republican party will not fail to take advantage of the folly of the southern states in refusing the amendment, and of the obnoxious schemes of their opponents, to impress upon the people the necessity of still more effective precautions against the dangerous ambition of the southern leaders and their northern allies.

Hitherto we have given only mercy—but justice is still alive. It seems a monstrous thing to the southern politicians that some of them should be excluded from office; but, suppose they were to be hanged for their treason, as the law demands, suppose their estates should be taken from them, as the law requires? If they will take our advice they will think of these things. They are not masters of the situation. They have no more power now, nor strength with the country, than they had the day Lee surrendered to Grant; then they would have joyfully accepted the amendment; it is great folly of them to reject it now. Their attitude, their conduct, their words, their pretentious claims, are all irritating to the northern people, who fought through four years to put down treason, and now see the leading traitors aspiring to the highest offices and demanding where if they were prudent they would supplicate, and if they were only reasonable they would accept in silence the large and free mercy which is offered them.

If the southern leaders were wise men, they would say to themselves, "Our best course is to adopt the amendment, because thus the matter will be settled; we shall at least be secure of life, property and residence in the country. We failed, and we must wait for our offence to be forgotten." They would see that presently their affair will "blow over," if only they act prudently; but that their present course is only calculated to excite resentment against them. Congress, which would have the power, under the amendment, would before many years pass, remit the very light penalty put upon them, and restore them—or all who show a proper spirit—to all privileges, and they might still hope for a political future.

But they seem little inclined for such wisdom. They are as besotted now as they were in 1860, when they deliberately made war against the Union, and really believed their treason would not be resisted. Their crazy attempt then not only brought ruin upon their own states, but enormous losses and sufferings upon the northern people. So too, their present course threatens to inflict upon us, as well as upon the southern states, further injuries. The southern leaders have a capacity for mischief, that is to say, they are able to keep the country in disorder; but whenever the people of the United States come fairly to see this, nothing is so probable as that they will sweep away with the strong arm of justice, these infatuated hinderers of peace and prosperity, these malignant and stubborn mischief makers. If the men who lead the way in the great treason insist on being hanged or expatriated, they may yet have their will—and that sooner than they think.

THE GREAT PERIODIC DISPLAY OF METEORS is expected, with more or less confidence, to return to-night, or to-morrow night. If the sky be cloudless a great number of star-gazers may be seen with their faces and thoughts turned heavenwards for once in their lives at least. A writer on the subject says we may go back as far as the year 900 to trace the beginning of these heavenly periodic displays, but the more modern occurrences of the phenomena were observed in Southern Germany, on the night of November 9-10, 1687; and in Cumana, November 12-13. Each time the stars are said to have been in motion all night, falling like locusts, and in numbers the most practiced eye could not count. This phenomenon was noted as far south as the equator, over North America, and on the other side of the Atlantic, in Germany. The elevation of the meteors was computed at more than 1419 miles.

In 1818, meteoric displays of unusual brilliancy were seen on the same night of November 12-13; and again in 1822, in Potsdam. On the same night in 1831 and in 1832, the same phenomenon re-appeared in Europe and America. But the most magnificent display came in 1833, in November. It was visible all over the United States, a part of Mexico and the West Indies. Large fire balls and small shooting stars fell like snow flakes, described arcs, left luminous trains, in short, taught the professors of pyrotechnics some gyrations they had never dreamed of.

This was repeated, modified somewhat, annually until 1839, and then re-appeared in November, 1841 and 1846. The real period of return is supposed to be about 33 years, and a repetition of the display of 1833 is therefore due on the night of the 12th-13th of the present month.

Prof. Newton, of Yale College predicts a prodigious flight of meteors, the most imposing of its kind, and visible over a large area of the earth's surface. Alexander Herschel of England, who lately lectured on the subject before the Royal Institution, shares in this expectation. The meteors should be especially looked for between midnight and sunrise, and may be expected in greatest abundance between three and four A. M. They proceed with few exceptions, from a common centre in some part of the constellation of Leo.

The city government of Boston have ordered the sounding of the fire alarm in order to afford the citizens an opportunity of witnessing the phenomenon, and we learn that Mayor Wakefield has also ordered the bells to be rung here if the exhibition commences under favorable auspices. The prospect of a clear sky is not very good at the present time, Sunday.

The Elections.

The Tribune foots up the New York returns now as follows:

Fenton's total,	78,493
Hoffman's total,	64,187
Fenton's majority,	14,306

Further returns reduce the Republican majority in New Jersey to about 2000. The filling of the vacancy in the U S Senate, caused by the death of Mr Wright, is now much discussed. Prominent among those mentioned in connection with the position are Governor Ward, the Hon H N Congar, the Hon George T Cobb, the Hon F T Frelinghuysen, and Gov Newell.

The next Maryland Legislature will stand as follows—Senate, 16 Democrats, 8 Unionists; House of Delegates, 59 Democrats to 21 Republicans, so that even the throwing out of the 21 Representatives chosen from Baltimore would make no difference in the complexion of the Legislature. The Republicans have carried only four counties in the State.

The Republican majority in Illinois is 45,000. In Minnesota it is 10,000. In Michigan it is estimated at 20,000. In Kansas between 14,000 and 15,000. In the latter State the indications are that Senator Pomeroy, who carried every district in his State the first time in five years, will be re-elected.

The Wilmington Gazette (Dem) claims the following as the vote of Delaware. The Commercial (Union) thinks it too high for Saulsbury, the Democratic candidate:

	Saulsbury.	Riddle.
Newcastle county,	—	179
Kent county,	928	—
Sussex county,	767	—
Total,	1695	179

Democratic majority in the State, 1516

The Trenton Gazette thus reasonably exults over the New Jersey election:

"We believe that the Republicans of no State in the Union have fought a better fight or won a more brilliant triumph than those of New Jersey. We are proud of their fidelity, their courage and their indomitable energy. We congratulate them again on the glorious result of their labors, and we claim now and henceforth to take rank among the certain and reliable Republican States. When, in the next Congress, New Jersey is represented by two tried and trusted Unionists in the Senate, and three in the House, we may well feel proud of the Republicans of our State."

The Chicago Tribune says of the election in Illinois that there is hardly a Copperhead gain in the whole State. Cook county alone shows a Republican gain of over 5000. Peoria county (it will be remembered that President Johnson told the correspondent of the London Times to "look at Peoria") has gone Republican by nearly 3000 majority. The State Senate will stand fifteen Republicans to nine Copperheads. The Republican majority in the House will be between twenty-five and thirty.

Racine City, the home of the recreant Senator, Doolittle, has given 601 Republican majority against 79 two years ago, a larger increase than in any other district in the State.

The Republican majority in Michigan is about 20,000. The Congressional election resulted as follows:

1st District—Fernando C Beaman, re-elected, Republican; majority 4300.

2d—Charles Upson, Republican; 6480 majority.

3d—Austin Blair, Republican; 3280 majority.

4th—Thomas W Ferry, re-elected, Republican; 2100 majority—returns not complete.

5th—Rowland E Trowbridge, re-elected, Republican; 1860 majority.

6th—John F Driggs, Republican; 2,000 majority.

MISSOURI—The Republican Majority in the State about 20,000. The Tribune has the following despatch from St. Louis, dated Nov. 8th:

Partial returns from 30 counties indicate a Radical majority in the State of about 20,000. The balance, not heard from, is estimated in the above. Piles' official majority in the 1st Congress District, is 196. Newcomb has about 4,000 in the 2d District.—Noell (Conservative) is elected in the 3d District. The 4th District is overwhelmingly Radical. Gravelly's majority is about 4,000. In the 5th District McClurg carries Morgan, Miller, Cole, Cooper, Johnson, Pettis, and Benton Counties, and is elected by about 2,000 majority. The 6th District looks favorable to Van Horn (Rep.) He carries Jackson, Clinton, Cass, Caldwell, Bates, and Lafayette Counties. Birch (conservative) carries Clay, Ray, and Platte.—The majorities are not reported. The 7th District elects Loan (Radical) by a heavy majority. The 8th District elects Benjamin (Radical), who has large majorities in Clark, Audrian, Scotland, Lewis, San Marion, Shelby and Macon counties. The rest cannot alter the result. The 9th District probably elects Switzlet (Conservative) owing to gains in Pike County and the immense rebel vote cast in Callaway. Anderson carries St. Charles, Montgomery, and Warren, but is beaten by a small majority. There is great rejoicing here over the defeat of John Hogan. Frank Blair's election to the Legislature will be contested. He had six majority over Branscombe.

NEW JERSEY. Newell (Rep.) in the 2d District is now said to be defeated by a small majority.

The Tribune says that two-thirds of the vote of New York city is from foreign-born citizens.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.

A Carson City dispatch says that the Union party carried the Nevada State election yesterday, by about 1,000 majority.

Dr. Schenck on Dyspepsia. SYMPTOMS, CAUSES AND REMEDY.

Symptoms of Dyspepsia—A sense of fullness, tightness, and weight in the stomach, together with flatulency, acidity, sour, offensive belching of wind, water-brash and vomiting, and a great deal of what a person calls an all-gone feeling at the pit of the stomach; frequently there is also a palpitation of the heart, which physicians mistake for heart disease, and when the stomach is in this condition it is coated with a mucus or slime. The rough fibrous portions of the stomach, similar to what we see in tripe, is what throws out the gastric juice, and when the stomach gets a thick coat of slime on it, it prevents the gastric juice from flowing, and digestion ceases. Schenck's seaweed tonic dissolves this mucus of slime, and restores the stomach to its natural condition.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills are also required to carry off this morbid matter. Two-thirds of the cases of Consumption are caused from this diseased state of the stomach; the liver becoming torpid, it ceases to throw out bile, and in a short time the whole system is deranged. The mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes sympathizes with the other organs, and before the patient is aware of it, he or she has Bronchial or Pulmonary Consumption.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup cannot act freely thro' the blood when the system is in this locked-up condition, without the aid of the Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills. The Liver has all of the venous blood to strain, and when it gets in a morbid condition, blood and bile run through the system mixed, and the whole body becomes so low, and the blood so thick it can hardly run through the veins. In a majority of cases hemorrhages occur from the thick condition of the blood. The Mandrake Pills act on the Liver similar to calomel, or they do what that does—it unlocks the gall bladders, starts the bile, and the blood begins to circulate naturally through the veins, and the hemorrhages cease. If, when persons are attacked with hemorrhage, they would first take a good purgative, something that would act on the liver, they would soon be relieved from bleeding from the lungs, and it is the only way, for astringents are only temporary, and irritate the bronchial tubes, and lay the groundwork for consumption.

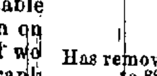

DR SCHENCK will be professionally at his rooms every week, 32 Bond Street, New York, and 35 Hanover Street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer the charge is $5.

His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers. Also a full supply at all times at his rooms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

HEAD QUARTERS, ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, AUGUSTA, November 6, 1866.

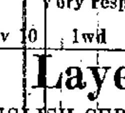

To Officers of Maine Volunteers:

IN my Report for 1864—65, I gave, so far as it was practicable, appropriate notices of Maine Officers and Soldiers engaged in the late war. It was my earnest desire to obtain and publish Biographical and Obituary notices of every officer and soldier connected with Maine Regiments during the war, who in any way had rendered conspicuous service, and especially such who had deceased. I was only partially successful, and I propose to continue the publication of these in my Annual Report for 1866. Will our Maine Volunteer Officers of the recent war, who have to this time failed to make the contributions indicated, (which are very much desired and needed within the next six weeks), use every exertion to meet my requirements during the specified time, and favor me with a sketch of their services, or those of some deceased friend? Very respectfully, JOHN L. HODSDON, Adjutant General. nov 10 1wd w1t

CANCERS CAN BE CURED! DR. L. CHASE, (LATE OF PORTLAND,) THE CELEBRATED INDIANOPATHY, CANCER & HUMOR DOCTOR, HAVING purchased the residence of H. A. Wood, 54 Hammond Street, Bangor, Maine, would be happy to be consulted by all who are afflicted with Cancers, Cancer Humors, Tumors, Scrofula, Leprosy, Salt Rheum, Fits, Neuralgia, Bronchial Affections, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Sick Headache, Liver Diseases, Female Weaknesses, Piles, Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Diseases of the Kidneys, Stiff Joints, Gravel, Diabetes, &c. &c. DR. CHASE has practiced in his profession for sixteen years, and in that time has spent two years in Florida and Cuba, for the purpose of gaining a correct knowledge of the most efficient remedies used by the various tribes of Indians of that country, and by great expense has gained many valuable secrets which have heretofore been unknown to the world. In Cancer he claims superiority over all other Physicians of the age, for he never fails to perform a cure when taken in a proper stage. His mode of curing Cancers is by the application of a plaster, which is strictly vegetable, and will have no effect upon the healthy flesh, and in no case uses a knife, as does Dr. Greene, of Boston. He also boldly asserts that he can tell every individual their diseases and location of their pains, and describe their feelings in almost every case, more minutely than they can possibly themselves. Dr. Chase is not a Clairvoyant, but can give his examinations on a strictly scientific principle, and will challenge any professed medium for a similar examination. Office hours from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. Examinations free. Office at residence No. 54 Hammond Street. November 7, 1866. d3w

The Action of the South upon the Amendment.

The rejection of the constitutional amendment by the Georgia Legislature, by a practically unanimous vote, as stated in the despatches of Saturday, may be resonably supposed to indicate the general feeling of the late rebels throughout the South—and it is not therefore probable that there will be enough ratifications by Southern States, to secure the adoption of the amendment by a three-fourths vote of all the States. It is just possible that if President Johnson shall withdraw his opposition, and throw the weight of his official influence in favor of the amendment, urging the South to adopt it, as the only alternative to more unpalatable conditions, the necessary ratifications may be secured—but the compact adverse vote in the Georgia Legislature—given after the result of all the fall elections—allows but faint expectation of such a result. President Johnson, too, is reported as being still obstinately and blindly determined upon carrying out "his policy"—notwithstanding the decisive and warning verdict of the people against it, and in dogged opposition to the open advice of even his most "conservative" newspaper organs and leading advisers. If this be true, of course there is no chance of the amendment receiving rebel support.

What Congress will do, if the ratification fails, it is not for us to say—but what it will not do is plain enough. It will not admit representatives from the late rebel States, until proper conditions are complied with. The instructions just given them by the people at the polls, are clear and significant enough on that point. What the conditions hereafter may be cannot now be fully conjectured—but we may confidently believe that they will not be less effective in their nature than those heretofore offered. We can say moreover, that the public mind of the loyal States is rapidly becoming settled upon one point—that impartial suffrage at least, if not universal suffrage, shall be required—and that other terms may be made as light as the safety of the country's debt and finances, and the sure establishment of equal rights, will allow.

In an article written some time since, conjecturing this state of things, the New York Post, which has sometimes been quoted with high approbation by the Johnson papers, had the following remarks:

What, then, will be the result if the amendment fails? It is plain, in the first place, that we shall be condemned still longer to the condition in which the country, to its very great injury, has been for now eighteen months—a condition which we have called anarchical, and which would be as bad as that of Mexico, were it not that our people have more patience, and have not yet fallen into the habit of shooting each other for political differences.

But this is not all; we could not stand still where we are. Political parties will inevitably divide upon an issue of extremes. We think it may be said that this issue will be between a party on the one hand who will demand the admission to Congress, and to all political power, of all the leaders in the late rebellion, and a party on the other hand who will demand the utmost severity of punishment for those leaders, and universal or impartial suffrage in all the states, as the only security for the nation.

That this is the tendency of parties no one can doubt who bears in mind that the copperhead leaders look to an alliance with the copperhead leaders look to an alliance with the leaders in the late rebellion, as their only hope of a political future; they must, in the nature of things, demand for these allies of theirs all political rights and privileges: while the so-called radical wing of the Republican party will not fail to take advantage of the folly of the southern states in refusing the amendment, and of the obnoxious schemes of their opponents, to impress upon the people the necessity of still more effective precautions against the dangerous ambition of the southern leaders and their northern allies.

Hitherto we have given only mercy—but justice is still alive. It seems a monstrous thing to the southern politicians that some of them should be excluded from office; but, suppose they were to be hanged for their treason, as the law demands, suppose their estates should be taken from them, as the law requires? If they will take our advice they will think of these things. They are not masters of the situation. They have no more power now, nor strength with the country, than they had the day Lee surrendered to Grant; then they would have joyfully accepted the amendment; it is great folly of them to reject it now. Their attitude, their conduct, their words, their pretentious claims, are all irritating to the northern people, who fought through four years to put down treason, and now see the leading traitors aspiring to the highest offices and demanding where if they were prudent they would supplicate, and if they were only reasonable they would accept in silence the large and free mercy which is offered them.

If the southern leaders were wise men, they would say to themselves, "Our best course is to adopt the amendment, because thus the matter will be settled; we shall at least be secure of life, property and residence in the country. We failed, and we must wait for our offence to be forgotten." They would see that presently their affair will "blow over," if only they act prudently; but that their present course is only calculated to excite resentment against them. Congress, which would have the power, under the amendment, would before many years pass, remit the very light penalty put upon them, and restore them—or all who show a proper spirit—to all privileges, and they might still hope for a political future.

But they seem little inclined for such wisdom. They are as besotted now as they were in 1860, when they deliberately made war against the Union, and really believed their treason would not be resisted. Their crazy attempt then not only brought ruin upon their own states, but enormous losses and sufferings upon the northern people. So too, their present course threatens to inflict upon us, as well as upon the southern states, further injuries. The southern leaders have a capacity for mischief, that is to say, they are able to keep the country in disorder; but whenever the people of the United States come fairly to see this, nothing is so probable as that they will sweep away with the strong arm of justice, these infatuated hinderers of peace and prosperity, these malignant and stubborn mischief-makers. If the men who lead the way in the great treason insist on being hanged or expatriated, they may yet have their will—and that sooner than they think.

THE GREAT PERIODIC DISPLAY OF METEORS is expected, with more or less confidence, to return to-night, or to-morrow night. If the sky be cloudless a great number of star-gazers may be seen with their faces and thoughts turned heavenwards for once in their lives at least. A writer on the subject says we may go back as far as the year 900 to trace the beginning of these heavenly periodic displays, but the more modern occurrences of the phenomena were observed in Southern Germany, on the night of November 9–10, 1687; and in Cumana, November 12–13. Each time the stars are said to have been in motion all night, falling like locusts, and in numbers the most practiced eye could not count. This phenomenon was noted as far south as the equator, over North America, and on the other side of the Atlantic, in Germany. The elevation of the meteors was computed at more than 1419 miles.

In 1818, meteoric displays of unusual brilliancy were seen on the same night of November 12–13; and again in 1822, in Potsdam. On the same night in 1831 and in 1832, the same phenomenon re-appeared in Europe and America. But the most magnificent display came in 1833, in November. It was visible all over the United States, a part of Mexico and the West Indies. Large fire balls and small shooting stars fell like snow flakes, described arcs, left luminous trains, in short, taught the professors of pyrotechnics some gyrations they had never dreamed of.

This was repeated, modified somewhat, annually until 1839, and then re-appeared in November, 1841 and 1846. The real period of return is supposed to be about 33 years, and a repetition of the display of 1833 is therefore due on the night of the 12th-13th of the present month.

Prof. Newton, of Yale College predicts a prodigious flight of meteors, the most imposing of its kind, and visible over a large area of the earth's surface. Alexander Herschel of England, who lately lectured on the subject before the Royal Institution, shares in this expectation. The meteors should be especially looked for between midnight and sunrise, and may be expected in greatest abundance between three and four A. M. They proceed with few exceptions, from a common centre in some part of the constellation of Leo.

The city government of Boston have ordered the sounding of the fire alarm in order to afford the citizens an opportunity of witnessing the phenomenon, and we learn that Mayor Wakefield has also ordered the bells to be rung here if the exhibition commences under favorable auspices. The prospect of a clear sky is not very good at the present time, Sunday.

The Elections.

The Tribune foots up the New York returns now as follows:

Fenton's total,	78,493
Hoffman's total,	64,187
Fenton's majority,	14,306

Further returns reduce the Republican majority in New Jersey to about 2000. The filling of the vacancy in the U S Senate, caused by the death of Mr Wright, is now much discussed. Prominent among those mentioned in connection with the position are Governor Ward, the Hon H N Congar, the Hon George T Cobb, the Hon F T Frelinghuysen and Gov Newell.

The next Maryland Legislature will stand as follows:—Senate, 16 Democrats, 8 Unionists; House of Delegates, 59 Democrats to 21 Republicans, so that even the throwing out of the 21 Representatives chosen from Baltimore would make no difference in the complexion of the Legislature. The Republicans have carried only four counties in the State.

The Republican majority in Illinois is 45,000. In Minnesota it is 10,000. In Michigan it is estimated at 20,000. In Kansas between 14,000 and 15,000. In the latter State the indications are that Senator Pomeroy, who carried every district in his State the first time in five years, will be re-elected.

The Wilmington Gazette (Dem) claims the following as the vote of Delaware. The Commercial (Union) thinks it too high for Saulsbury, the Democratic candidate:

	Saulsbury.	Riddle.
Newcastle county,	—	179
Kent county,	928	—
Sussex county,	767	—
Total	1695	179

Democratic majority in the State, 1516

The Trenton Gazette thus reasonably exults over the New Jersey election:

"We believe that the Republicans of no State in the Union have fought a better fight or won a more brilliant triumph than those of New Jersey. We are proud of their fidelity, their courage and their indomitable energy. We congratulate them again on the glorious result of their labors, and we claim now and henceforth to take rank among the certain and reliable Republican States. When, in the next Congress, New Jersey is represented by two tried and trusted Unionists in the Senate and three in the House, we may well feel proud of the Republicans of our State."

The Chicago Tribune says of the election in Illinois that there is hardly a Copperhead gain in the whole State. Cook county alone shows a Republican gain of over 5000. Peoria county (it will be remembered that President Johnson told the correspondent of the London Times to "look at Peoria") has gone Republican by nearly 3000 majority. The State Senate will stand fifteen Republicans to nine Copperheads. The Republican majority in the House will be between twenty-five and thirty.

Racine City, the home of the recreant Senator Doolittle, has given 601 Republican majority against 79 two years ago, a larger increase than in any other district in the State.

The Republican majority in Michigan is about 20,000. The Congressional election resulted as follows:

1st District—Fernando C Beaman, re-elected, Republican; majority 4300.

2d—Charles Upson, Republican; 6480 majority.

3d—Austin Blair, Republican; 8280 majority.

4th—Thomas W Ferry, re-elected, Republican; 2100 majority—returns not complete.

5th—Rowland E Trowbridge, re-elected, Republican; 1360 majority.

6th—John F Driggs, Republican; 2,000 majority.

MISSOURI—The Republican Majority in the State about 20,000. The Tribune has the following despatch from St Louis, dated Nov. 8th:

Partial returns from 80 counties, indicate a Radical majority in the State of about 20,000. The balance, not heard from, is estimated in the above. Piles' official majority in the 1st Congress District, is 196. Newcomb has about 4,000 in the 2d District.—Noell (Conservative) is elected in the 3d District. The 4th District is overwhelmingly Radical. Gravelly's majority is about 4,000. In the 5th District, McClurg carries Morgan, Miller, Cole, Cooper, Johnson, Pettis, and Benton Counties, and is elected by about 2,000 majority. The 6th District looks favorable to Van Horn (Rep.) He carries Jackson, Clinton, Cass, Caldwell, Bates, and Lafayette Counties. Birch (conservative) carries Clay, Ray, and Platte.—The majorities are not reported. The 7th District elects Loan (Radical) by a heavy majority. The 8th District elects Benjamin (Radical), who has large majorities in Clark, Audrian, Scotland, Lewis, San Marion, Shelby and Macon counties. The rest cannot alter the result. The 9th District probably elects Switzler (Conservative) owing to gains in Pike County and the immense rebel vote cast in Callaway. Anderson carries St. Charles, Montgomery, and Warren, but is beaten by a small majority. There is great rejoicing here over the defeat of John Hogan. Frank Blair's election to the Legislature will be contested. He had six majority over Branscombe.

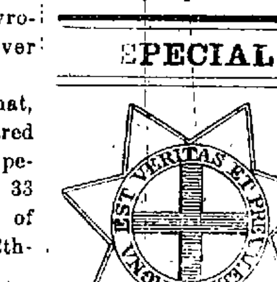

NEW JERSEY. Newell (Rep.) in the 2d District is now said to be defeated by a small majority.

The Tribune says that two-thirds of the vote of New York city is from foreign-born citizens.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.

A Carson City dispatch says that the Union party carried the Nevada State election yesterday, by about 1,000 majority.

Dr. Schenck on Dyspepsia.

SYMPTOMS, CAUSES AND REMEDY.

Symptoms of Dyspepsia—A sense of fullness, tightness, and weight in the stomach, together with flatulency, acidity, sour, offensive belching of wind, water-brash and vomiting, and a great deal of what a person calls an all-gone feeling at the pit of the stomach; frequently there is also a palpitation of the heart, which physicians mistake for heart disease, and when the stomach is in this condition it is coated with a mucus or slime. The rough fibrous portions of the stomach, similar to what we see in tripe, is what throws out the gastric juice, and when the stomach gets a thick coat of slime on it, it prevents the gastric juice from flowing, and digestion ceases. Schenck's seaweed tonic dissolves this mucus or slime, and restores the stomach to its natural condition.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills are also required to carry off this morbid matter. Two-thirds of the cases of Consumption are caused from this diseased state of the stomach; the liver becoming torpid, it ceases to throw out bile, and in a short time the whole system is deranged. The mucous membrance of the bronchial tubes sympathizes with the other organs, and before the patient is aware of it, he or she has Bronchial or Pulmonary Consumption.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup cannot act freely thro' the blood when the system is in this locked-up condition, without the aid of the Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills. The Liver has all of the venous blood to strain, and when it gets in a morbid condition, blood and bile run through the system mixed, and the whole body becomes so low, and the blood so thick it can hardly run through the veins. In a majority of cases hemorrhages occur from the thick condition of the blood. The Mandrake Pills act on the Liver similar to calomel, or they do what that does—it unlocks the gall bladders, starts the bile, and the blood begins to circulate naturally through the veins, and the hemorrhages cease. If, when persons are attacked with hemorrhage, they would first take a good purgative, something that would act on the liver, they would soon be relieved from bleeding from the lungs, and it is the only way, for astringents are only temporary, and irritate the bronchial tubes, and lay the groundwork for consumption.

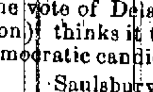

DR. SCHENCK will be professionally at his rooms every week, 32 Bond Street, New York, and 35 Hanover Street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer the charge is $5.

His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers. Also a full supply at all times at his rooms. Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1 50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

HEAD QUARTERS,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
AUGUSTA, November 6, 1866.

To Officers of Maine Volunteers:

IN my Report for 1864–5, I gave, so far as it was practicable, appropriate notices of Maine Officers and Soldiers engaged in the late war. It was my earnest desire to obtain and publish Biographical and Obituary notices of every officer and soldier connected with Maine Regiments during the war, who in any way had rendered conspicuous service, and especially such who had deceased. I was only partially successful, and I propose to continue the publication of these in my Annual Report for 1866.

Will our Maine Volunteer Officers of the recent war, who have to this time failed to make the contributions indicated, (which are very much desired and needed within the next six weeks), use every exertion to meet my requirements during the specified time, and favor me with a sketch of their services, or those of some deceased friend?

Very respectfully,

CANCERS CAN BE CURED!

DR. L. CHASE,

(LATE OF PORTLAND)

THE CELEBRATED

INDIANCEPATHY, CANCER & HUMOR DOCTOR,

HAVING purchased the residence of H. Woon, 54 Hammond Street, Bangor, Me., would be happy to be consulted by all who are afflicted with Cancers, Cancer Humors, Tumors, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Fits, Neuralgia, Bronchial Affections, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Sick Headache, Liver Diseases, Female Weaknesses, Piles, Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Diseases of the Kidneys, Stiff Joints, Gravel, Diabetes, &c., &c.

DR. CHASE has practiced in his profession for fifteen years, and in that time has spent two years in Florida and Cuba, for the purpose of gaining a correct knowledge of the most efficient remedies used by the various tribes of Indians of that country, and by great expense has gained many valuable secrets which have heretofore been unknown to the world.

In Cancer he claims superiority over all Physicians of the age; for he never fails to perform a cure when taken in a proper stage.

His mode of curing Cancers is by the application of a plaster, which is strictly vegetable, and will have no effect upon the healthy flesh; and in no case uses a knife, as does Dr. Greele, of Boston.

He also boldly asserts that he can tell every individual their disease and location of their pains, and describe their feelings in almost every case, as minutely than they can possibly themselves.

Dr. Chase is not a Clairvoyant, but does his examinations on a strictly scientific principle, and will challenge any professed medium for a test examination.

Office hours from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. Examination free. Office at residence No. 54 Hammond Street.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.

Commodore John Rogers has been appointed to the command of the Boston navy yard, in place of Admiral Stringham, whose term of service has expired.

Commander G. W. Cooper, commanding the U S steamer Winooski, reports under date of Oct 31, the arrival of his vessel at Matanzas, after a cruise in the vicinity of the Bahamas.

Cammander Cooper sailed on the 18th for the purpose of assisting what was reported to be an American ship ashore near Miemary Rocks, Little Bahama. The vessel proved to be the English ship Lord Elgin, from Pensacola for Liverpool. The officers and crew had been taken off by a vessel bound to Key West.

At Abaco an American bark had gone ashore and all on board lost.

The English brig Raven had been capsized, a Great Stirrup Crag, and driven ashore.—None on board were saved.

On the 22d, Commander Cooper stopped at Nassau, where, at the request of our Consul, five American machinists were taken on board the Winooski for passage to Matanzas, they having been wrecked in the bark Willis, on the Bahamas.

By the arrival of a schooner on the 27th from Inaqua, at Nassau, accounts were received of the entire destruction of the settlement on Turks Island, and the wrecking of 30 foreign vessels by the recent hurricane.

Commander Cooper proposed to sail soon for Key West.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.

Major General Fry, late Provost Marshal General of the United States, sailed from New York on Saturday, in the steamer Arizona, for California, to enter upon his new and important field of duty as Adjutant General of the Military District of the Pacific, to which he has just been assigned by the Secretary of War.

The National Convention of the Grand Army of the Republic will assemble at Indianapolis on Tuesday, the 20th, instead of 25th inst., as erroneously announced.

The naval supply steamer Newbern, from Pensacola, arrived today.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.

The Herald's Washington special despatch says:

There was a meeting of the Cabinet yesterday, at which the President produced portions of his annual message on Mexican matters.

If Minister Campbell and Gen Sherman find neither Maximilian nor the French intend to leave Mexico, the President will recommend vigorous action to hasten their departure.

The belief is entertained that the French Emperor desires Maximilian to remain in Mexico until the French troops are withdrawn.

The Imperialists state that Maximilian went to Orizaba to obtain news of his wife, but it is still believed he has gone there to embark for Europe.

The Grand Jury of Washington has presented G A Dunham, alias Sanford Conover, for perjury during the Lincoln assassination trials.

Robert Lawrie Gen Gile, W. Hellier have arrived in Washington to present the resolutions of the Mississippi Legislature for the release of Jeff Davis to the President.

MILWAUKIE, Nov. 10.

The Republican Congressional majority in this State is not less than 25,000, a gain of over one hundred per cent. on the vote of 1864.

The Legislature stands—Senate, 22 Republicans to 11 Democrats House, 70 Republicans to 30 Democrats.

TORONTO, Nov. 10.

The Court met at 10 a. m. and resumed the Fenian trials. With the exception of the jurymen, counsel and witnesses, there were but few present when the Court opened, but it soon began gradually to fill, and by the time the sheriff had called over the jury panel the gallery was crowded.

Messrs R A Harrison, John Patterson and J McNab represented the Crown, and Mr. McKenzie defended the prisoners.

His Lordship—Mr Harrison, are you prepared in any of the cases this morning?

Mr Harrison—Yes, my Lord, there is the case of the Queen vs Hayden, which I wish to be proceeded with. An affidavit has already been put in, but the time asked for has passed.

Mr McKenzie—We are not prepared to proceed. A messenger has been sent to the other side for the purpose of obtaining witnesses, but has not returned.

Mr Harrison—Will you make affidavit to that effect?

Mr McKenzie—It is my intention to do so.

John Coony was the first placed in the dock. He is a low, thick set man, 40 years of age, with short brown hair, low forehead, blue eyes, moustache and beard of a Yankee cut, and rather repulsive. He was dressed in a rather seedy looking brown coat, light colored vest and pants.

Previous to pleading Mr McKenzie moved to quash the indictment, on the same grounds as that in the case of the Queen vs O'Neil and others.

The prisoner then plead "not guilty" and stated that he was not ready for trial.

Patrick Keating was the next placed at the bar. On being questioned he stated that he was 23 years of age, and plead not guilty to the charge.

Mr McKenzie made a similar motion in this case.

His Lordship—Are you ready for your trial?

Prisoner—Yes, my Lord.

Mr McKenzie—His case, my Lord will have to stand; we are not yet ready.

The prisoner was then removed.

The Queen vs Wm Hayden—after a long argument between the counsel (Mr Harrison persisting that the prisoner should be tried, and McKenzie submitting he was entitled to further postponement)—the prisoner was directed to be brought in. He is about twenty years of age.

Mr McKenzie moved to quash the indictment, and the prisoner pleaded not guilty. The jury were then sworn.

Three witnesses—John Metcalf, Joseph Newbegging and George Graham—were sworn. They identified the prisoner; saw him on the 1st of June, extorting money from various persons; he was armed with a rifle and bayonet. He said they (the Fenians) had come over to take Canada and were going to free Ireland.

Mr McKenzie then read and put in several affidavits as to the prisoner's previous good character. He then addressed the jury for the defence.

His Lordship then charged the jury, explaining to them the law under which the prisoner was tried.

Mr McKenzie—I propose to make some exceptions to your Lordship's charge, as I did in Parry's case, with these further objections—1st, that your Lordship should not have told the jury that the proclamation the prisoner to show his business in Canada on that occasion. 2d, that your Lordship should not have expressed yourself: 'can there be any doubt the prisoner was at Lime Ridge or Fort Erie?' 3d, that your Lordship should have directed the jury 'the prisoner was riding on horseback between two and five o'clock in the afternoon, extorting money from the people, was strong evidence to go to the jury. His object was private plunder, not public war.'"

At 10 minutes past 2 p. m. the jury returned a verdict of "guilty."

His Lordship—Prisoner, have you anything to say why the sentence should not be passed on you?

Prisoner—I have only to say that the three witnesses who have sworn against me, that I obtained money by threats, is false!—they have perjured themselves. I simply asked money in a friendly way.

His Lordship then sentenced the prisoner to be hung on the 18th of December next.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.

Consul Gooday claims thirteen cannon, which were recently brought from the French fortifications at Mazatlan, as the property of the Mexican Republic, and will treat their sale as void.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 10.

Juarez was at Chihuahua with his ministers and 800 soldiers on the 17th inst. The department commanders will not send him troops.

Escobedo has moved against Mejia at San Luise Potosi with 400 French and 800 Mexicans.

The Imperialists held Durango and are expected to fall back on the capital.

Juarez and the Imperial Government are exhausted in finances. Juarez is levying forced loans and confiscating property. His hopes are dependent on the guarantee of a liberal loan by the U S government. He has greatly oppressed American residents, demanding $50,000,000 cash, and they have sent a memorial to Washington.

Maximilian's prospects are bad. He must leave with the French.

The Liberal generals and lawyers are understood to favor Ortega, and only recognize Juarez because he is recognized at Washington.

Juarez has annulled the Louisiana and Tehuantepec grant, and made a new one to other Americans, who pay $1,000,000 in cash, and reimburse the holders of the Sloo grant the money they paid for it.

There is a fine cotton crop in Chihuahua this season.

All northern Mexico except Durango is in the hands of Liberals.

The territory if clean of Indians, but that of Texas is full of them.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.

Arrived—Bark May Flower, Barbadoes; Steamer Columbia, Glasgow, 27th ult.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 10.

The argument in the new police commissioners habeas corpus case was concluded this afternoon. Judge Bartol will announce his decision on Tuesday.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 10.

Salt Lake City has offered $2000 reward for the apprehension of the assassin of Dr. Robinson, recently murdered there. The citizens by private subscription have added $685 to the sum. Brigham Young subscribed $500.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.

In the case of Mr. Hellen, who bought the coupons of the bonds stolen from Rufus L. Lord, the Court decided the evidence warranted the dismissal of the defendant.

BRANCHVILLE, S. C. Nov. 10.

Mrs Garvin and daughter were murdered near Orangeburg, S. C., Thursday, by two freedmen. The murderers have been arrested.

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 11.

James Cook's livery stable, in Meriden, was burned this morning. Loss $5000—partially insured.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 11.

The Maryland Horse Fair opens on Tuesday. The horses Dexter and Patchen will be present, and there will be trials of speed each day for premiums ranging from $200 to $9000.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.

Sailed—27th, Brig Hattie, for Baltimore; 25th, Schooner Light Boat for Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10.

The bark Sea Eagle, from Grand Turk, Turk's Island, 30th ult., arrived to-day with Capt. Munday, of schooner Sallie J. Aiken, Capt A G Holson of brig A G Cottell, and Capt. Nicholson of brig J M. Houston.

These vessels were lost in the recent hurricane.

TORONTO, C. W., Nov. 10.

The Ottawa field battery are sending their guns to Quebec to be immediately re-placed by guns of heavier caliber and new equipments.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 11.

Much interest is felt to learn the decision of Judge Bartol in the habeas corpus case of the Police Commissioners appointed by Gov Swann to succeed the old board, and in the case of Sheriff Thompson, who was arrested and committed for not summoning a posse in answer to the requisition of the newly appointed commissioners.

The decision is expected to cover the whole ground as to the legality of Governor Swann's action, and the consequent legality or illegality of Judge Bond's Court.

It is generally believed that Gov. Swann will immediately call an extra session of the Legislature, when questions of great moment to the people of the State will be submitted for its consideration.

—The Lewiston Journal says that C. C. Conlon, indicted by the Grand Jury at the last session of court for Androscoggin county, for keeping a nuisance, and who plead guilty and skipped the officers under pretence of crossing the bridge to get bail and made-himself, has been arrested in New Hampshire and brought back to Auburn jail.

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS.

MAINE CENTRAL TIME. We are glad to see by the announcement of the winter arrangement that the time of arrival of the evening train in Bangor is still to continue at 8 o'clock, instead of being extended to 8:30 as last winter. The half hour is valuable to our business men who have letters to answer by return mail, and very convenient to every one. We hope the running of the Grand Trunk trains will be fast enough to allow of the regular delivery of the Maine Central trains here as provided in the time table. Our mails from the west might be, and ought to be, delivered here at 6 P. M., instead of 8. It could be done without difficulty, if the roads between Boston and Portland would run at reasonable speed. Twenty-three miles an hour including stoppages would do it. The morning trains for the east might leave Boston a half hour earlier, and still take the New York passengers, and the stop at Portland need not be quite so long.

—At a meeting of Bangor Ladder Company, No. 1, holden November 8th, the following officers were elected:

J. W. Sleeper, Foreman.
W. L. Chase, 2d "
H. B. Parker, 3d "

PROMOTION. Hudson Sawyer of Milford, formerly Captain in the First Maine Heavy Artillery, has been promoted to Major of Volunteers by Brevet, for gallant and meritorious conduct during the war.

Our neighbor of the Whig indulges in a little pleasantry—or intended to be such—at our expense. We should appreciate it better were it nearer to the truth. Keep as near to the truth, neighbor, as you can.—[Times.

Oh, certainly; but then in doing so, we fear we shall lose the pleasure of your acquaintance.

—We have often observed a singular phenomenon in politics. The defeated party are always in favor of laying side partisanship and entering upon "the era of good feeling!"

—The alarm of fire Saturday afternoon was caused by the burning of a pile of brush near the foot of Main street.

THE ATTORNEY GENERALSHIP. We understand that the friends of Hon. Woodbury Davis of Portland are urging him to become a candidate for the Attorney Generalship of Maine soon to become vacant, in consequence of the election of Hon. John A. Peters to Congress. Other names have already been brought forward for the position—Hon. Albert G. Jewett of Belfast, Hon. Chas. R. Whidden of Calais, Hon. Wm. P. Frye of Lewiston. The office will not fail of being honorably and ably filled.

—Captain Greenleaf A. Goodale of the Maine Volunteers has been transferred to the United States Army. Capt G. enlisted at Bucksport in the first company raised in the county of Hancock, and his record through the war is highly favorable. He has well earned his promotion in eleven hard fought battles.

—Mr. A. B. Butler of Portland, being in the habit of carrying his money home at night in $100 packages and leaving it in his coat pocket, recently discovered that his "hired girl" was in the habit of taking her wages largely in advance. She was arrested, and $50 or more were found in her trunk. Mr. B. had frequently missed $5, $10 and $15 at a time. The girl owned up to stealing $55 in one week.

QUICK WORK. The Press says that on the 20th of September the corner stone of the Portland Sugar House, erecting by Hon. J. B. Brown & Sons was laid. Seven stories are already up and in a course of a few days, should the weather continue favorable, the eighth story will be completed and workmen will commence on the roof. The building is of brick, built in the most thorough manner, and will be eight stories high on York street and nine stories in the rear.

—There have been 425,000 cans of lobsters packed at South West Harbor this season.

—An exchange says that John Morrissey will probably be President of the First National Faro Bank.

—It appears by an article in the Dover Observer that the people of Dover and Foxcroft are feeling more than usual interest in the Temperance cause.

—The Kittery correspondent of the Biddeford Journal says about 40 navy yard workmen of various departments were discharged last week among whom were many returned soldiers for whom the government has pretended to have so much clemency.

—An exchange says it is not uncommon for distant telegraph operators to hold conversation with each other. Bangor said to Augusta, Ga. the other evening: "How are you, my reconstructed friend!" Augusta, Ga., operator answers: "How are you? how is codfish selling?"

BOWDOIN COLLEGE. The telegraph says the Boards are to meet to-morrow (18th), the main business being the election of a President, and perhaps that of a Treasurer. We think General Chamberlain may be elected President.

—The Pennell Brothers launched a 1300 ton ship recently, named the "Oakland," as we learn from the Brunswick Telegraph.

—A young man in Topsham recently received a severe wound by the accidental discharge of a pistol in his pants pocket.—Shouldn't carry pocket-pistols—especially glass ones. They inflict worse wounds than any of the six-shooters.

—The Argus mentions a quick passage of twenty days to Glasgow, by the brig Lizzie H. Jackson; Capt. Warwick, from Portland Oct. 6.

—Dr. True writes to the Farmer that he finds limestone in abundance at and near Strong village.

—The Machias Union says the potatoes in many places in that vicinity are as good as have ever been grown, and in fair quantity.

—The Mercantile Library Association of Portland have added 1800 volumes to their collection, and are now temporarily occupying a portion of a new block on Lime St.

—"The wild geese have been swinging round the circle recently in great numbers," says the Argus. Referring, we suppose, to the Johnson conservatives—astounded and frightened off southward by the reports from the November elections. They were geese, certainly, to believe that the people would endorse "my policy."

—Chicken thieves are active in Waterville, according to the Mail. They made an extensive raid on Mr. Brackett's farm one night last week, carrying off twenty-five hens and chickens, and a dozen nice turkeys. It is not fair to organize a large Thanksgiving party at a man's expense without sending him an invitation.

—The Argus says the North Bridgeton Academy has 128 scholars and is in a most flourishing condition. This is one of the oldest schools in the State. They had a ready fund of $9,000. Recently they have sold a part of the township of Maxfield for $2,500, which has been added to that fund, making $11,500.

—Hallowell is to have a steam fire engine, as the Gazette says. We are pleased to see also that the good old place is partaking of the general prosperity of the Kennebec valley. It will reap many additional advantages from the establishment of manufactures on a large scale at Augusta, within two miles of her streets and stores. Hallowell was a lively and pleasant place to visit in the days of our youth, and we hope to see her waste places restored.

DANGEROUS PLACE. In a suit tried yesterday in the Supreme Judicial Court to recover for milk delivered, the plaintiff testified that after putting the milk into the cans he placed the cans out by the pump. Judge Walton remarked that he hoped plaintiff would not put any more cans there, as it was a dangerous place for lacteal fluid.—[Press.

—The funeral ceremonies of the late Maj. George C. Getchell, whose body arrived on Friday, were held at the Baptist Church in this village, last Sabbath afternoon. Rev. Dr. Champlain, whose pupil he had been in College, paid a warm tribute to his worth as a man and a soldier. Wrapped in the flag, under which he had so faithfully served, his remains were borne to the church by the members of Waterville Lodge of Freemasons, and afterwards deposited in Pine Grove Cemetery, with the usual ceremonies of the Fraternity.

"Sweet sleep the brave who for their country die."
—[Mail.

—The flying correspondent of the Argus sends the following items from the east:

J. W. Dresser of Castine is to build one mackerel schooner and one freighting schooner of 200 tons another season.

The Castine Brick Company have commenced the manufacture of brick on a large scale.

The Baptist Society of Sedgwick have just completed repairs on their church, making it very attractive and comfortable. They expended $2,500.

There is quite a revival of religion at South West Harbor, through the preaching of Rev. J. M. Parsons, a travelling minister. There is also much religious feeling manifested in the Congregational Society of that place—Rev. Mr. Hubbard's Society.

A YANKEE AMONG THE SAINTS. The Farmington Chronicle says:

Mr. Weston, the Little Blue pupil recently mentioned as the publisher of a paper at Salt Lake, has been mobbed by the Mormons for his boldness in denouncing their deviltries, and been warned to leave their city.—His assailants numbered some twelve, and were thickly disguised and heavily armed. They dragged him to a remote part of the city, and, with four revolvers pointed at his head obliged him to promise that he would immediately leave the territory, and take with him Capt. Brown and Dr. Williamson, two prominent Gentiles, the former of whom was some time before taken from his house and threatened with drowning if he did not leave the city. Mr. Weston says that he considers his promise to leave the territory invalid, as it was extorted by force, and he shall stop as long as he pleases and talk more plainly about the Mormons than ever. He offers to fight the Mormons singly with whatever weapon they may choose, if they will come to his office and make known their grievances. The result of this difficulty between the Mormons and Gentiles, which seems now to have come to an open issue, will be of the greatest importance, and the government will have to act with rare delicacy, but with no questionable firmness. General Connor is the principal owner of the Vidette, which is edited by young Weston, and has had too much ammunition with both Mormons and Indians to be likely to be intimidated by the turn affairs may take.

Grand Trial of Sewing Machines,
(Between the Willcox & Gibbs and Florence.)
THE WILLCOX & GIBBS TRIUMPHANT.

IT is declared the BEST MACHINE, and awarded the highest premium.

For the Willcox & Gibbs Machine THIRTY-FIVE distinct claims were made for superiority, ALL of which were fully sustained; for the Florence Machine but TEN were presented, only TWO of which were sustained. By this trial, more thorough than any of the kind ever previously attempted—a trial before an able and impartial jury, the justice of whose verdict none can dispute—it has been proved, decided and published to the world that the Willcox & Gibbs Machine is just what it has claimed to be—AN IMPROVEMENT ON DOUBLE THREAD MACHINES. It requires, we think, no prophet to foresee its accelerated progress in the future, or to foretell its ultimate triumph as the recognized
Standard Sewing Machine of the World.

Circulars, containing full report of the Judges and all particulars at this important trial, at the office of the Willcox & Gibbs Sewing Machine Company, 25 Main Street, Bangor, Maine.

CELEBRATED FEATHER DRESSING
AND
RENOVATING MACHINE
The most successful patent of the kind ever offered to the public, and we venture the prediction that it never will be excelled, for it proves to be exactly what all conditions and qualities of feathers, from entirely new to old and much worn, need to render them as perfect as age, quality and condition will admit of their being made. The cleansing is done entirely by steam.
One dollar and fifty cents per bed, including the pillows and bolsters, provided the feathers are ready to be run with the rye.
I will call at each house to receive the beds and return them when finished.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.

Commodore John Rogers has been appointed to the command of the Boston navy yard, in place of Admiral Stringham, whose term of service has expired.

Commander G. W. Cooper, commanding the U S steamer Winooski, reports under date of Oct 31, the arrival of his vessel at Matanzas, after a cruise in the vicinity of the Bahamas.

Commander Cooper sailed on the 18th for the purpose of assisting what was reported to be an American ship ashore near Mimmary Rocks, Little Bahama. The vessel proved to be the English ship Lord Elgin, from Pensacola for Liverpool. The officers and crew had been taken off by a vessel bound to Key West.

At Abaco an American bark had gone ashore and all on board lost.

The English brig Raven had been capsized at Great Sturrup Crag, and driven ashore.—None on board were saved.

On the 22d, Commander Cooper stopped at Nassau, where, at the request of our Consul, five American machinists were taken on board the Winooski for passage to Matanzas, they having been wrecked in the bark Wilds, on the Bahamas.

By the arrival of a schooner on the 27th from Inagua, at Nassau, accounts were received of the entire destruction of the settlement on Turks Island, and the wrecking of 50 foreign vessels by the recent hurricane.

Commander Cooper proposed to sail soon for Key West.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.

Major General Fry, late Provost Marshal General of the United States, sailed from New York on Saturday, in the steamer Arizona, for California, to enter upon his new and important field of duty as Adjutant General of the Military District of the Pacific, to which he has just been assigned by the Secretary of War.

The National Convention of the Grand Army of the Republic will assemble at Indianapolis on Tuesday, the 20th, instead of 20th inst., as erroneously announced.

The naval supply steamer Newbern, from Pensacola, arrived today.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.

The Herald's Washington special despatch says:

There was a meeting of the Cabinet yesterday, at which the President produced portions of his annual message on Mexican matters.

If Minister Campbell and Gen. Sherman find neither Maximilian nor the French inclined to leave Mexico, the President will recommend vigorous action to hasten their departure.

The belief is entertained that the French Emperor desires Maximilian to remain in Mexico until the French troops are withdrawn.

The Imperialists state that Maximilian went to Orizaba to obtain news of his wife, but it is still believed he has gone there to embark for Europe.

The Grand Jury of Washington has presented G A Dunham, alias Sanford Conover, for perjury during the Lincoln assassination trials.

Robert Lawrie Gen Gile, W. Hellier have arrived in Washington to present the resolutions of the Mississippi Legislature for the release of Jeff Davis to the President.

MILWAUKIE, Nov. 10.

The Republican Congressional majority in this State is not less than 26,000, a gain of over one hundred per cent. on the vote of 1864.

The Legislature stands—Senate, 22 Republicans to 11 Democrats House, 70 Republicans to 30 Democrats.

TORONTO, Nov. 10.

The Court met at 10 a. m. and resumed the Fenian trials. Withe the exception of the jurymen, counsel and witnesses, there were but few present when the Court opened, but it soon began gradually to fill, and by the time the sheriff had called over the jury panel the gallery was crowded.

Messrs R A Harrison, John Patterson and J McNab represented the Crown, and Mr. McKenzie defended the prisoners.

His Lordship—Mr Harrison, are you prepared in any of the cases this morning?

Mr Harrison—Yes, my Lord, there is the case of the Queen vs Hayden, which I wish to be proceeded with. An affidavit has already been put in, but the time asked for has passed.

Mr McKenzie—We are not prepared to proceed. A messenger has been sent to the other side for the purpose of obtaining witnesses, but has not returned.

Mr Harrison—Will you make affidavit to that effect?

Mr McKenzie—It is my intention to do so.

John Cooney was the first placed in the dock. He is a low, thick set man, 40 years of age, with short brown hair, low forehead, blue eyes, moustache and beard of a Yankee cut, and rather repulsive. He was dressed in a rather seedy looking brown coat, light colored vest and pants.

Previous to pleading Mr McKenzie moved to quash the indictment, on the same grounds as that in the case of the Queen vs O'Neil and others.

The prisoner then plead "not guilty" and stated that he was not ready for trial.

Patrick Kesting was the next placed at the bar. On being questioned he stated that he was 28 years of age, and pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Mr McKenzie made a similar motion in this case.

His Lordship—Are you ready for your trial?

Prisoner—Yes, my Lord.

Mr McKenzie—His case, my Lord, will have to stand; we are not yet ready.

The prisoner was then removed.

The Queen vs Wm Hayden—after a long argument between the counsel (Mr Harrison persisting that the prisoner should be tried, and McKenzie submitting he was entitled to further postponement)—the prisoner was directed to be brought in. He is about twenty years of age.

Mr McKenzie moved to quash the indictment, and the prisoner pleaded not guilty. The jury were then sworn.

Three witnesses—John Metcalf, Joseph Newbegging and George Graham—were sworn. They identified the prisoner; saw him on the 1st of June, extorting money from various persons; he was armed with a rifle and bayonet. He said they (the Fenians) had come over to take Canada, and were going to free Ireland.

Mr McKenzie then read and put in several affidavits, as to the prisoner's previous good character. He then addressed the jury for the defense.

His Lordship then charged the jury, explaining to them the law under which the prisoner was tried.

Mr McKenzie—I propose to make some exceptions to your Lordship's charge, as I did in Parry's case, with these further objections—"1st, that your Lordship should not have told the jury that the proof laid on the prisoner to show his business in Canada on that occasion. 2d, that your Lordship should not have expressed yourself: 'can there be any doubt the prisoner was at Lime Ridge or Fort Erie?' 3d, that your Lordship should have directed the jury 'the prisoner was riding on horseback between two and five o'clock in the afternoon, extorting money from the people, was strong evidence to go to the jury. His object was private plunder, not public war.'"

At 10 minutes past 2 p. m. the jury returned a verdict of "guilty."

His Lordship—Prisoner, have you anything to say why the sentence should not be passed on you!

Prisoner—I have only to say that the three witnesses who have sworn against me, that I obtained money by threats, is false—they have perjured themselves. I simply asked money in a friendly way.

His Lordship then sentenced the prisoner to be hung on the 13th of December next.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.

Consul Gooday claims thirteen cannon which were recently brought from the French fortifications at Mazatlan, as the property of the Mexican Republic, and will treat their sale as void.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 10.

Juarez was at Chihuahua with his ministers and 800 soldiers on the 17th inst. The department commanders will not send him troops.

Escobedo has moved against Mejia at San Luis Potosi with 400 French and 800 Mexicans.

The Imperialists held Durango and are expected to fall back on the capital.

Juarez and the Imperial Government are exhausted in finances. Juarez is levying forced loans and confiscating property. His hopes are dependent on the guarantee of a liberal loan by the U S government. He has greatly oppressed American residents, demanding $50,000,000 cash, and they have sent a memorial to Washington.

Maximilian's prospects are bad. He must leave with the French.

The Liberal generals and lawyers are understood to favor Ortega, and only recognize Juarez because he is recognized at Washington.

Juarez has annulled the Louisiana and Tehuantepec grant, and made a new one to other Americans, who pay $1,000,000 in cash, and reimburse the holders of the Slocum grant the money they paid for it.

There is a fine cotton crop in Chihuahua this season.

All northern Mexico except Durango is in the hands of Liberals.

The territory if clean of Indians, but that of Texas is full of them.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.

Sailed—27th, Brig Hattie, for Baltimore; 28th; Schooner Light Boat for Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10.

The bark Sea Eagle, from Grand Turk, Turk's Island, 30th ult., arrived to-day with Capt. Munday, of schooner Sallie J. Aiken, Capt A G Holson of brig A G Cottell, and Capt. Nicholson of brig J M. Houston.

These vessels were lost in the recent hurricane.

TORONTO, C. W., Nov. 10.

The Ottawa field battery are sending their guns to Quebec to be immediately re-placed by guns of heavier caliber and new equipments.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 11.

Much interest is felt to learn the decision of Judge Bartol in the habeas corpus case of the Police Commissioners appointed by Gov Swann to succeed the old board, and in the case of Sheriff Thompson, who was arrested and committed for not summoning a posse in answer to the requisition of the newly appointed commissioners.

The decision is expected to cover the whole ground as to the legality of Governor Swann's action, and the consequent legality or illegality of Judge Bond's Court.

It is generally believed that Gov. Swann will immediately call an extra session of the Legislature, when questions of great moment to the people of the State will be submitted for its consideration.

—The Lewiston Journal says that C. C. Conlon, indicted by the Grand Jury at the last session of court for Androscoggin county, for keeping a nuisance, and who plead guilty and skipped the officer's presence of crossing the bridge to get bail, and suddenly left, has been arrested in New Hampshire and brought back to Auburn jail.

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS.

MAINE CENTRAL TIME. We are glad to see by the announcement of the winter arrangement that the time of arrival of the evening train in Bangor is still to continue at 8 o'clock, instead of being extended to 8:30 as last winter. The half hour is valuable to our business men who have letters to answer by return mail, and very convenient to every one. We hope the running of the Grand Trunk trains will be fast enough to allow of the regular delivery of the Maine Central trains here as provided in the time table. Our mails from the west might be, and ought to be, delivered here at 6 P. M., instead of 8. It could be done without difficulty, if the roads between Boston and Portland would run at reasonable speed. Twenty-three miles an hour including stoppages would do it. The morning trains for the east might leave Boston a half hour earlier, and still take the New York passengers, and the stop at Portland need not be quite so long.

—At a meeting of Bangor Ladder Company, No. 1, holden November 8th, the following officers were elected:

J. W. Sleeper, Foreman.
W. L. Chase, 2d "
H. B. Parker, 3d "

PROMOTION. Hudson Saywer of Milford, formerly Captain in the First Maine Heavy Artillery, has been promoted to Major of Volunteers by Brevet, for gallant and meritorious conduct during the war.

Our neighbor of the Whig indulges in a little pleasantry—or intended to be such—at our expense. We should appreciate it better were it nearer to the truth. Keep as near to the truth, neighbor, as you can.—[Times.

Oh, certainly; but then in doing so, we fear we shall lose the pleasure of your acquaintance.

—We have often observed a singular phenomenon in politics. The defeated party are always in favor of laying side partisanship and entering upon "the era of good feeling."

—The alarm of fire Saturday afternoon was caused by the burning of a pile of brush near the foot of Main street.

THE ATTORNEY GENERALSHIP. We understand that the friends of Hon. Woodbury Davis of Portland are urging him to become a candidate for the Attorney Generalship of Maine soon to become vacant, in consequence of the election of Hon. John A. Peters to Congress. Other names have already been brought forward for the position—Hon. Albert G. Jewett of Belfast, Hon. Chas. R. Whidden of Calais, Hon. Wm. P. Frye of Lewiston. The office will not fail of being honorably and ably filled.

—Captain Greenleaf A. Goodale of the Maine Volunteers has been transferred to the United States Army. Capt. G. enlisted at Bucksport in the first company raised in the county of Hancock, and his record through the war is highly favorable. He has well earned his promotion in eleven hard fought battles.

—Mr. A. B. Butler of Portland, being in the habit of carrying his money home at night in $100 packages and leaving it in his coat pocket, recently discovered that his "hired girl" was in the habit of taking her wages largely in advance. She was arrested, and $50 or more were found in her trunk. Mr. B. had frequently missed $5, $10 and $15 at a time. The girl owned up to stealing $56 in one week.

QUICK WORK. The Press says that on the 20th of September the corner stone of the Portland Sugar House, erecting by Hon. J. B. Brown & Sons was laid. Seven stories are already up and in a course of a few days, should the weather continue favorable, the eighth story will be completed and workmen will commence on the roof. The building is of brick, built in the most thorough manner, and will be eight stories high on York street and nine stories in the rear.

—There have been 425,000 cans of lobsters packed at South West Harbor this season.

—It appears by an article in the Dover Observer that the people of Dover and Foxcroft are feeling more than usual interest in the Temperance cause.

—Ship Corsica, of Thomaston, Havener, at New York from Liverpool, reports Oct. 19, Richard Medland, seaman, of St. Johns, N. F., fell from the topsail yard, while reefing, overboard and was drowned, 26th, lat. 40 08, lon. 42 40, saw a quantity of wrecked stuff, consisting of spars, and rigging attached.

—Sch. Baltic, of Frankfort, laden with lime and laths, bound to Savannah, was driven ashore in the harbor of Owl's Head 30th ult. She was got off after removing deck load and 300 bbls from her hold. She is somewhat leaky and lost her shoe, but is not much damaged, and after repairing will proceed on her voyage. She is now at Rockland, to go on railway.

—At the Brunswick town meeting on Monday, the article providing for a petition to the Legislature to set off Brunswick from Cumberland to Sagadahoc County, was dismissed by a unanimous vote, after the statement was made that no taxes would be assessed for re-building the County buildings at Portland.

—The Farmington Chronicle says a lady in Chesterville, on dressing an arm not long since, on which she had applied draughts to remove soreness and pain, a few days, found the point of a common sewing needle protruding through the skin. With forceps to aid her it was soon removed, a black, corroded thing. Her arm had troubled her more or less for a year.

—The Jay bridge on the Androscoggin R. R. which collapsed a few days since, has been repaired, and trains are now running, without change, through to Farmington, says the Lewiston Journal.

—The Lewiston Journal says that a lad about five years old, son of Mr. J. A. Stockbridge, sustained a fracture of the right leg above the knee and injuries to the head, Thursday afternoon, by the falling of a corn body. This accident was nearly torn from his head.

—The Kittery correspondent of the Biddeford Journal says "about 45 navy yard workmen of various departments were discharged last week, among whom were many returned soldiers for whom the government has pretended to have so much clemency."

—An exchange says it is not uncommon for distant telegraph operators to hold conversation with each other. Bangor said to Augusta, Ga., the other evening: "How are you, my reconstructed friend!" Augusta, Ga., operator answers: "How are you? how is codfish selling?"

BOWDOIN COLLEGE. The telegraph says the Boards are to meet to-morrow (13th), the main business being the election of a President, and perhaps that of a Treasurer. We think General Chamberlain may be elected President.

—The Pennell Brothers launched a 1300 ton ship recently, named the "Oakland," as we learn from the Brunswick Telegraph.

—A young man in Topsham recently received a severe wound by the accidental discharge of a pistol in his pants' pocket. Shouldn't carry pocket-pistols—especially glass ones. They inflict worse wounds than any of the six-shooters.

—The Argus mentions a quick passage of twenty days to Glasgow, by the brig Lizzie H. Jackson, Capt. Warwick, from Portland Oct. 6.

—Dr. True writes to the Farmer that he finds limestone in abundance at and near Strong village.

—The Machias Union says the potatoes in many places in that vicinity are as good as have ever been grown, and in fair quantity.

—The Mercantile Library Association of Portland have added 1800 volumes to their collection, and are now temporarily occupying a portion of a new block on Lime St.

—"The wild geese have been swinging round the circle recently in great numbers" says the Argus. Referring, we suppose, to the Johnson conservatives—astounded and frightened off southward by the reports from the November elections. They were geese, certainly, to believe that the people would endorse "my policy."

—Chicken thieves are active in Waterville, according to the Mail. They made an extensive raid on Mr. Brackett's farm one night last week, carrying off twenty-five hens and chickens, and a dozen nice turkeys. It is not fair to organize a large Thanksgiving party at a man's expense without sending him an invitation.

—The Argus says the North Bridgton Academy has 128 scholars and is in a most flourishing condition. This is one of the oldest schools in the State. They had a ready fund of $9,000. Recently they have sold a part of the township of Maxfield for $2,500, which has been added to that fund, making $11,500.

—Hallowell is to have a steam fire engine, as the Gazette says. We are pleased to see also that the good old place is partaking of the general prosperity of the Kennebec valley. It will reap many additional advantages from the establishment of manufactures on a large scale at Augusta, within two miles of her streets and stores. Hallowell was a lively and pleasant place to visit in the days of our youth, and we hope to see her waste places restored.

DANGEROUS PLACE. In a suit tried yesterday in the Supreme Judicial Court to recover for milk delivered, the plaintiff testified that after putting the milk into the cans he placed the cans out by the pump. Judge Walton remarked that he hoped plaintiff would not put any more cans there, as it was a dangerous place for lacteal fluid.—[Press.

—The funeral ceremonies of the late Maj. George C. Getchell, whose body arrived on Friday, were held at the Baptist Church in this village, last Sabbath afternoon. Rev. Dr. Champlain, whose pupil he had been in College, paid a warm tribute to his worth as a man and a soldier. Wrapped in the flag, under which he had so faithfully served, his remains were borne to the church by the members of Waterville Lodge of Freemasons, and afterwards deposited in Pine Grove Cemetery, with the usual ceremonies of the Fraternity.

"Sweet sleep the brave who for their country die."—[Mail.

—The flying correspondent of the Argus sends the following items from the east:

J. W. Dresser of Castine is to build one mackerel schooner and one freighting schooner of 200 tons another season.

The Castine Brick Company have commenced the manufacture of brick on a large scale.

The Baptist Society of Sedgwick have just completed repairs on their church, making it very attractive and comfortable. They expended $2,500.

There is quite a revival of religion at South West Harbor, through the preaching of Rev. J. M. Parsons, a travelling minister. There is also much religious feeling manifested in the Congregational Society of that place—Rev. Mr. Hubbard's Society.

A YANKEE AMONG THE SAINTS. The Farmington Chronicle says:

Mr. Weston, the Little Blue pupil recently mentioned as the publisher of a paper at Salt Lake, has been mobbed by the Mormons for his boldness in denouncing their deviltries, and been warned to leave their city.—His assailants numbered some twelve, and were thickly disguised and heavily armed. They dragged him to a remote part of the city, and, with four revolvers pointed at his head obliged him to promise that he would immediately leave the territory, and take with him Capt. Brown and Dr. Williamson, two prominent Gentiles, the former of whom was some time before taken from his house and threatened with drowning if he did not leave the city. Mr. Weston says that he considers his promise to leave the territory invalid, as it was extorted by force, and he shall stop as long as he pleases and talk more plainly about the Mormons than ever. He offers to fight the Mormons singly with whatever weapon they may choose, if they will come to his office and make known their grievances. The result of this difficulty between the Mormons and Gentiles, which seems now to have come to an open issue, will be of the greatest importance, and the government will have to act with rare delicacy, but with no questionable firmness. General Connor is the principal owner of the Vidette, which is edited by Young Weston, and has had too much acquaintance with both Mormons and Indians to be likely to be intimidated by the turn affairs have taken.

Grand Trial of Sewing Machines,
(Between the Willcox & Gibbs and Florence.)
THE WILLCOX & GIBBS TRIUMPHANT.

IT is declared the BEST MACHINE, and awarded the highest premium.

For the Willcox & Gibbs Machine THIRTY-FIVE distinct claims were made for superiority, ALL of which were fully sustained; for the Florence Machine but TEN were presented, only two of which were sustained. By this trial more than any of the kind ever previously attempted—a trial before an able and impartial jury, the justice of whose verdict none can dispute—it has been proved, decided and published to the world that the Willcox & Gibbs Machine is just what it has claimed to be—AN IMPROVEMENT ON DOUBLE THREAD MACHINES. It requires, with no prophet to foresee its accelerated progress in the future, or to foretell its ultimate triumph as he recognized.

Standard Sewing Machine of the World.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.

Commodore John Rogers has been appointed to the command of the Boston navy yard, in place of Admiral Stringham, whose term of service has expired.

Commander F. W. Cooper, commanding U S steamer Winooski, reports under date of Oct 31 the arrival of his vessel at Matanzas, after a cruise in the vicinity of the Bahamas.

Commander Cooper sailed on the 18th for the purpose of assisting what was reported to be an American ship ashore near Mimary Sound, Little Bahama. The vessel proved to be the English ship Lord Elgin, from Sagua la Grande for Liverpool. The officers and crew had been taken off by a vessel bound to Key West.

At Abaco an American bark had gone ashore and all on board lost.

The English brig Raven had been capsized in a great Stirrup Crag, and driven ashore.—Those on board were saved.

On the 22d, Commander Cooper stopped at Nassau, where, at the request of our Consular American machinists were taken off from the Winooski for passage to Matanzas, having been wrecked in the bark Wilson in the Bahamas.

By the arrival of a schooner on the 27th from Inagua, at Nassau, accounts were received of the entire destruction of the settlement on Turks Island, and the wrecking of foreign vessels by the recent hurricane. Commander Cooper proposed to sail soon for Key West.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.

Major General Fry, late Provost Marshal General of the United States, sailed from New York on Saturday, in the steamer Arizona for California, to entor upon his new and important field of duty as Adjutant General of the Military District of the Pacific to which he has just been assigned by the Secretary of War.

The National Convention of the Grand Army of the Republic will assemble at Indianapolis on Tuesday, the 20th, instead of 13th inst., as erroneously announced.

The naval supply steamer Newbern, from Nicolas, arrived today.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.

The Herald's Washington special despatch says:

There was a meeting of the Cabinet yesterday, at which the President produced portions of his annual message on Mexican affairs.

Minister Campbell and Gen. Sherman say neither Maximilian nor the French intend to leave Mexico, the President will require vigorous action to hasten their departure.

The belief is entertained that the French Emperor desires Maximilian to remain in Mexico until the French troops are withdrawn.

The Imperialists state that Maximilian intends to Orizaba to obtain news of his wife, who is still believed he has gone there to sail for Europe.

The Grand Jury of Washington has presented G A Dunham, alias Sanford Conover, for perjury during the Lincoln assassination trial.

Robert Lawrie Gen Gile, W. Hellier have been held in Washington to present the resolutions of the Mississippi Legislature for the release of Jeff. Davis to the President.

MILWAUKIE, Nov. 10.

The Republican Congressional majority in this State is not less than 26,000, a gain of one hundred per cent. on the vote of 1864.

The Legislature stands—Senate, 22 Republicans to 11 Democrats House, 70 Republicans to 30 Democrats.

TORONTO, Nov. 10.

The Court met at 10 a. m. and resumed the Fenian trials. With the exception of the reporters, counsel and witnesses, there was but few present when the Court opened but it soon began gradually to fill, and at one time the sheriff had called over the panel the gallery was crowded.

Messrs R A Harrison, John Patterson and Nab represented the Crown, and Mr. Mackenzie defended the prisoners.

His Lordship—Mr Harrison, are you prepared in any of the cases this morning?

Mr Harrison—Yes, my Lord, there is the case of the Queen vs Hayden, which I wish to be proceeded with. An affidavit has also been put in, but the time asked for has not elapsed.

Mr McKenzie—We are not prepared to proceed. A messenger has been sent to the country side for the purpose of obtaining witnesses, but has not returned.

Mr Harrison—Will you make affidavit to that effect?

Mr McKenzie—It is my intention to do so.

John Coony was the first placed in the box. He is a low, thick set man, 40 years of age, with short brown hair, low forehead, grey eyes, moustache and beard of a Yankee cut, and rather repulsive. He was dressed in a rather seedy looking brown coat, striped vest and pants.

Previous to pleading Mr McKenzie moved to quash the indictment, on the same grounds as that in the case of the Queen vs Gilland others.

The prisoner then plead "not guilty" and said that he was not ready for trial.

Patrick Keating was the next placed at the bar. On being questioned he stated that he was 23 years of age, and pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Mr McKenzie made a similar motion in this case.

His Lordship—Are you ready for your trial?

Prisoner—Yes, my Lord.

Mr McKenzie—His case, my Lord, will have to stand; we are not yet ready.

The prisoner was then removed.

The Queen vs Wm Hayden—after a long argument between the counsel (Mr Harrison persisting that the prisoner should be tried, and McKenzie submitting he was entitled to further postponement)—the prisoner was directed to be brought in. He is about twenty years of age.

Mr McKenzie moved to quash the indictment, and the prisoner pleaded not guilty. The jury were then sworn.

Three witnesses—John Metcalf, Joseph Newbegging and George Graham—were sworn. They identified the prisoner; saw him on the 1st of June, extorting money from various persons; he was armed with a rifle and bayonet. He said they (the Fenians) had come over to take Canada, and were going to free Ireland.

Mr McKenzie then read and put in several affidavits, as to the prisoner's previous good character. He then addressed the jury for the defense.

His Lordship then charged the jury, explaining to them the law under which the prisoner was tried.

Mr McKenzie—I propose to make some exceptions to your Lordship's charge, as I did in Parry's case, with these further objections—1st, that your Lordship should not have told the jury that the proof laid on the prisoner to show his business in Canada on that occasion. 2d, that your Lordship should not have expressed yourself: 'can there be any doubt the prisoner was at Lime Ridge or Fort Erie?' 3d, that your Lordship should have directed the jury the prisoner was riding on horseback between two and five o'clock in the afternoon, extorting money from the people, was strong evidence to go to the jury. His object was private plunder, not public war."

At 10 minutes past 2 p. m. the jury returned a verdict of "guilty."

His Lordship—Prisoner, have you anything to say why the sentence should not be passed on you?

Prisoner—I have only to say that the three witnesses who have sworn against me, that I obtained money by threats, is false—they have perjured themselves. I simply asked money in a friendly way.

His Lordship then sentenced the prisoner to be hung on the 13th of December next.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.

Consul Gooday claims thirteen cannon which were recently brought from the French fortifications at Mazatlan, as the property of the Mexican Republic, and will treat their sale as void.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 10.

Juarez was at Chihuahua with his ministers and 800 soldiers on the 17th inst. The department commanders will not send him troops.

Escobedo has moved against Mejia at San Luis Potosi with 400 French and 800 Mexicans.

The Imperialists hold Durango and are expected to fall back on the capital.

Juarez and the Imperial Government are exhausted in finances. Juarez is levying forced loans and confiscating property. His hopes are dependent on the guarantee of a liberal loan by the U S government. He has greatly oppressed American residents, demanding $50,000,000 cash, and they have sent a memorial to Washington.

Maximilian's prospects are bad. He must leave with the French.

The Liberal generals and lawyers are understood to favor Ortega, and only recognize Juarez because he is recognized at Washington.

Juarez has annulled the Louisiana and Tehuantepec grant, and made a new one to other Americans, who pay $1,000,000 in cash, and reimburse the holders of the Sloo grant the money they paid for it.

There is a fine cotton crop in Chihuahua this season.

All northern Mexico except Durango is in the hands of Liberals.

The territory of clean of Indians, but that of Texas is full of them.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.

Sailed—27th, Brig Hattie, for Baltimore; 25th, Schooner Light Boat for Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10.

The bark Sea Eagle, from Grand Turk, Turk's Island, 30th ult., arrived to-day with Capt. Munday, of schooner Sallie J. Aiken, Capt A G Holson of brig A G Cottall, and Capt. Nicholson of brig J. M. Houston.

These vessels were lost in the recent hurricane.

TORONTO, C. W., Nov. 10.

The Ottawa field battery are sending their guns to Quebec to be immediately re-placed by guns of heavier caliber and new equipments.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 11.

Much interest is felt to learn the decision of Judge Bartol in the habeas corpus case of the Police Commissioners appointed by Gov Swann to succeed the old board, and in the case of Sheriff Thompson, who was arrested and committed for not summoning a posse in answer to the requisition of the newly appointed commissioners.

The decision is expected to cover the whole ground as to the legality of Governor Swann's action, and the consequent legality or illegality of Judge Bond's Court.

It is generally believed that Gov. Swann will immediately call an extra session of the Legislature, when questions of great moment to the people of the State will be submitted for its consideration.

—The Lewiston Journal says that C. C. Conlon, indicted by the Grand Jury at the last session of court for Androscoggin county, for keeping a nuisance, and who plead guilty and skipped the officers under pretence of crossing the bridge to get bail, and suddenly left, has been arrested in New Hampshire and brought back to Auburn jail.

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS.

MAINE CENTRAL TIME. We are glad to see by the announcement of the winter arrangement that the time of arrival of the evening train in Bangor is still to continue at 8 o'clock, instead of being extended to 8:30 as last winter. The half hour is valuable to our business men who have letters to answer by return mail, and very convenient to every one. We hope the running of the Grand Trunk trains will be fast enough to allow of the regular delivery of the Maine Central trains here as provided in the time table. Our mails from the west might be, and ought to be, delivered here at 6 P. M., instead of 8. It could be done without difficulty, if the roads between Boston and Portland would run at reasonable speed. Twenty-three miles an hour including stoppages would do it. The morning trains for the east might leave Boston a half hour earlier, and still take the New York passengers, and the stop at Portland need not be quite so long.

—At a meeting of Bangor Ladder Company, No. 1, holden November 8th, the following officers were elected:

J. W. Sleeper, Foreman.
W. L. Chase, 2d "
H. B. Parker, 3d "

PROMOTION. Hudson Sawyer of Milford, formerly Captain in the First Maine Heavy Artillery, has been promoted to Major of Volunteers by Brevet, for gallant and meritorious conduct during the war.

Our neighbor of the Whig indulges in a little pleasantry—or intended to be such—at our expense. We should appreciate it better were it nearer to the truth. Keep as near to the truth, neighbor, as you can.—Times.

Oh, certainly; but then in doing so, we fear we shall lose the pleasure of your acquaintance.

—We have often observed a singular phenomenon in politics. The defeated party are always in favor of laying side partisanship and entering upon "the era of good feeling."

—The alarm of fire Saturday afternoon was caused by the burning of a pile of brush near the foot of Main street.

THE ATTORNEY GENERALSHIP. We understand that the friends of Hon. Woodbury Davis of Portland are urging him to become a candidate for the Attorney Generalship of Maine soon to become vacant, in consequence of the election of Hon. John A. Peters to Congress. Other names have already been brought forward for the position—Hon. Albert G. Jewett of Belfast, Hon. Chas. R. Whidden of Calais, Hon. Wm. P. Frye of Lewiston. The office will not fail of being honorably and ably filled.

—Captain Greenleaf A. Goodale of the Maine Volunteers has been transferred to the United States Army. Capt. G. enlisted at Bucksport in the first company raised in the county of Hancock, and his record through the war is highly favorable. He has well earned his promotion in eleven hard fought battles.

—Mr. A. B. Butler of Portland, being in the habit of carrying his money home at night in $100 packages and leaving it in his coat pocket, recently discovered that his "hired girl" was in the habit of taking her wages largely in advance. She was arrested, and $60 or more were found in her trunk. Mr. B. had frequently missed $5, $10 and $15 at a time. The girl owned up to stealing $55 in one week.

QUICK WORK. The Press says that on the 20th of September the corner stone of the Portland Sugar House, erecting by Hon. J. B. Brown & Sons was laid. Seven stories are already up and in a course of a few days, should the weather continue favorable, the eighth story will be completed and workmen will commence on the roof. The building is of brick, built in the most thorough manner, and will be eight stories high on York street and nine stories in the rear.

—There have been 425,000 cans of lobsters packed at South West Harbor this season.

—An exchange says that John Morrissey will probably be President of the First National Faro Bank.

—It appears by an article in the Dover Observer that the people of Dover and Foxcroft are feeling more than usual interest in the Temperance cause.

—Ship Corsica, of Thomaston, Havener, at New York from Liverpool, reports Oct. 19, Richard Medland, seaman, of St. Johns, N. F., fell from the topsail yard, while reefing, overboard and was drowned, 26th, lat. 40 03, lon. 42 40, saw a quantity of wrecked stuff, consisting of spars, and rigging attached.

—Sch. Baltic, of Frankfort, laden with lime and laths, bound to Savannah, was driven ashore in the harbor of Owl's Head 30th ult. She was got off after removing deck load and 300 bbls from her hold. She is somewhat leaky and lost her shoe, but is not much damaged, and after repairing will proceed on her voyage. She is now at Rockland, to go on railway.

—At the Brunswick town meeting on Monday, the article providing for a petition to the Legislature to set off Brunswick from Cumberland to Sagadahoc County, was dismissed by a unanimous vote, after the statement was made that no taxes would be assessed for re-building the County buildings at Portland.

—The Farmington Chronicle says a lady in Chesterville, on dressing an arm not long since, on which she had applied draughts to remove soreness and pain, a few days found the point of a common sewing needle protruding through the skin. With forceps to aid her it was soon removed, a black, corroded thing. Her arm had troubled her more or less for a year.

—The Jay bridge on the Androscoggin R. R. which collapsed a few days since, has been repaired, and trains are now running, without change, through to Farmington, says the Lewiston Journal.

—The Lewiston Journal says that a lad about five years old, son of Mr. J. A. Stockbridge, sustained a fracture of the right leg above the knee and injuries to the head, Thursday afternoon, by the falling of a cart body. The scalp was partly torn from his head.

—The Kittery correspondent of the Biddeford Journal says about 40 navy yard workmen of various departments were discharged last week, among whom were many returned soldiers for whom the government has pretended to have so much clemency.

—An exchange says it is not uncommon for distant telegraph operators to hold conversation with each other. Bangor said to Augusta, Ga., the other evening: "How are you, my reconstructed friend!" Augusta, Ga., operator answers: "How are you? how is codfish selling?"

BOWDOIN COLLEGE. The telegraph says the Boards are to meet to-morrow (18th), the main business being the election of a President, and perhaps that of a Treasurer. We think General Chamberlain may be elected President.

—The Pennell Brothers launched a 1300 ton ship recently, named the "Oakland," as we learn from the Brunswick Telegraph.

—A young man in Topsham recently received a severe wound by the accidental discharge of a pistol in his pants pocket.—Shouldn't carry pocket-pistols—especially glass ones. They inflict worse wounds than any of the six-shooters.

—The Argus mentions a quick passage of twenty days to Glasgow, by the brig Lizzie H. Jackson, Capt. Warwick, from Portland Oct. 6.

—Dr. True writes to the Farmer that he finds limestone in abundance at and near Strong village.

—The Machias Union says the potatoes in many places in that vicinity are as good as have ever been grown, and in fair quantity.

—The Mercantile Library Association of Portland have added 1800 volumes to their collection, and are now temporarily occupying a portion of a new block on Lime St.

—The wild geese have been swinging round the circle recently in great numbers," says the Argus. Referring, we suppose, to the Johnson conservatives—astounded and frightened off southward by the reports from the November elections. They were geese, certainly, to believe that the people would endorse "my policy."

—Chicken thieves are active in Waterville, according to the Mail. They made an extensive raid on Mr. Brackett's farm one night last week, carrying off twenty-five hens and chickens, and a dozen nice turkeys. It is not fair to organize a large Thanksgiving party at a man's expense without sending him an invitation.

—The Argus says the North Bridgton Academy has 128 scholars and is in a most flourishing condition. This is one of the oldest schools in the State. They had a ready fund of $9,000. Recently they have sold a part of the township of Maxfield for $2,500, which has been added to that fund, making $11,500.

—Hallowell is to have a steam fire engine, as the Gazette says. We are pleased to see also that the good old place is partaking of the general prosperity of the Kennebec valley. It will reap many additional advantages from the establishment of manufactures on a large scale at Augusta, within two miles of her streets and stores. Hallowell was a lively and pleasant place to visit in the days of our youth, and we hope to see her waste places restored.

DANGEROUS PLACE. In a suit tried yesterday in the Supreme Judicial Court to recover for milk delivered, the plaintiff testified that after putting the milk into the cans he placed the cans out by the pump. Judge Walton remarked that he hoped plaintiff would not put any more cans there, as it was a dangerous place for lacteal fluid.—[Press.

—The funeral ceremonies of the late Maj George G. Getchell, whose body arrived on Friday, were held at the Baptist Church in this village, last Sabbath afternoon. Rev. Dr. Champlain, whose pupil he had been in College, paid a warm tribute to his worth as a man and a soldier. Wrapped in the flag, under which he had so faithfully served, his remains were borne to the church by the members of Waterville Lodge of Freemasons; and afterwards deposited in Pine Grove Cemetery, with the usual ceremonies of the Fraternity.

"Sweet sleep the brave who for their country die."
—[Mail.

—The flying correspondent of the Argus sends the following items from the east:

J. W. Dresser of Castine is to build one mackerel schooner and one freighting schooner of 200 tons another season.

The Castine Brick Company have commenced the manufacture of brick on a large scale.

The Baptist Society of Sedgwick have just completed repairs on their church, making it very attractive and comfortable. They expended $2,500.

There is quite a revival of religion at South West Harbor, through the preaching of Rev. J. M. Parsons, a travelling minister. There is also much religious feeling manifested in the Congregational Society of that place—Rev. Mr. Hubbard's Society.

A YANKEE AMONG THE SAINTS. The Farmington Chronicle says:

Mr. Weston, the Little Blue pupil recently mentioned as the publisher of a paper at Salt Lake, has been mobbed by the Mormons for his boldness in denouncing their deviltries, and been warned to leave their city.—His assailants numbered some twelve, and were thickly disguised and heavily armed. They dragged him to a remote part of the city, and, with four revolvers pointed at his head obliged him to promise that he would immediately leave the territory and take with him Capt. Brown and Dr. Williamson, two prominent Gentiles, the former of whom was some time before taken from his house and threatened with drowning if he did not leave the city. Mr. Weston says that he considers his promise to leave the territory invalid, as it was extorted by force, and he shall stop as long as he pleases and talk more plainly about the Mormons than ever. He offers to fight the Mormons singly with whatever weapon they may choose, if they will come to his office and make known their grievances. The result of this difficulty between the Mormons and Gentiles, which seems now to have come to an open issue, will be of the greatest importance, and the government will have to act with rare delicacy, but with no questionable firmness. General Connor is the principal owner of the Vidette, which is edited by Young Weston, and has had too much acquaintance with both Mormons and Indians to be likely to be intimidated by the turn affairs have taken.

Grand Trial of Sewing Machines,
(Between the Willcox & Gibbs and Florence.)
THE WILLCOX & GIBBS TRIUMPHANT.

IT is declared the BEST MACHINE, and awarded the highest premium.

For the Willcox & Gibbs Machine THIRTY-FIVE distinct claims were made for superiority, ALL of which were fully sustained; for the Florence Machine but TEN were presented, only two of which were sustained. By this trial, more thorough than any of the kind ever previously attempted—a trial before an able and impartial jury, the justice of whose verdict none can dispute—it has been proved, decided and published to the world that the Willcox & Gibbs Machine is just what it has claimed to be—AN IMPROVEMENT ON DOUBLE THREAD MACHINES. It requires, we think, no prophet to foresee its accelerated progress in the future, or to foretell its ultimate triumph as the received Standard Sewing Machine of the World.

Circulars, containing full report of the Judges and all particulars at this important trial, at the office of the Willcox & Gibbs Sewing Machine Company, 25 Main Street, Bangor, Maine.

THE Subscriber offers to the citizens of Bangor a rare chance to avail themselves of the unparalleled benefits of COL. A. BAILEY'S
CELEBRATED FEATHER DRESSING
AND
RENOVATING MACHINE,
The most successful patent of the kind ever offered to the public, and we venture the prediction that it never will be excelled, for it proves to be exactly what all conditions and qualities of feathers, from entirely new to old and much worn, need to render them as good as for new quality and condition will admit of their being made. The cleansing is done entirely by steam.

One dollar and fifty cents per bed, including the pillows and bolsters, provided the feathers are suitable to work with the bed.

I will call at each house to receive the beds and return them when finished.

OVER THE RIVER.

Over the river they beckon to me—
Loved ones who've crossed to the further side;
The gleam of their snowy robes I see,
But their voices are lost in the flashing tide.
There's one with ringlets of sunny gold,
And eyes, the reflection of Heaven's own blue;
He crossed in the twilight gray and cold,
And the pale mist hid him from mortal view.
We saw not the angel that met him there,
The gate of the city we could not see:
Over the river, over the river,
My brother stands waiting to welcome me!

Over the river the boatman pale
Carried another, the household pet;
Her brown curls waved in the gentle gale—
Darling Lizzie! I see her yet!
She crossed on her bosom her dimpled hands,
And fearlessly entered the phantom bark;
We watched it glide from the silver sands,
And all our sunshine grew strangely dark.
We know she is safe on the further side,
Where all the ransomed and angels be;
Over the river, the mystic river,
My childhood's idol is waiting for me.

For none return from those quiet shores
Who cross with the boatman cold and pale;
We hear the dip of the golden oars,
And catch a gleam of the snowy sail:
And lo! they have passed from our yearning hearts
They cross the stream and are gone for aye.
We may not sunder the veil apart
That hides from our vision the gates of day.
We only know that their barks no more
May sail with us o'er life's solemn sea;
Yet somewhere, I know on the unseen shore,
They watch and beckon, and wait for me!

And I sit and think when the sunset's gold
Is flushing river and hill, and shore,
I shall one day stand by the water cold,
And list for the sound of the boatman's oar.
I shall watch for a gleam of the flapping sail;
I shall hear the boat as it gains the strand;
I shall pass from sight with the boatman pale
To the better shore of the spirit land.
I shall know the loved who have gone before,
And joyfully sweet will the meeting be,
When over the river, the peaceful river,
The Angel of Death shall carry me.

A HERD OF BULLS. One of the richest specimens of a real Irish bull which has ever fallen under our notice, was perpetrated by the clever and witty, but blundering Irish knight, Sir Richard Steele, when inviting a certain English nobleman to visit him. "If, sir, said he, you ever come within a mile of my house, I hope you will stay there!" Another by the same gentleman is well worth recording. Being asked how he accounted for his countrymen making so many bulls, he replied: "I cannot tell if it is not the effect of the climate. I fancy if an Englishman was born in Ireland, he would make as many." The same laughable train of thought seems to have seized upon a countryman of this Irish tiberdaun, who exceedingly enjoyed the apple pie which was flavored with a few green gooseberries, exclaimed, 'Ah, what a darling of an apple pie it would be if it were all made of green gooseberries!'

A rich bull is recorded of an Irishman at cards, who, on inspecting the pool, found, it deficient: 'Here is a shilling short,' said he, 'who put it in?'

This bull was actually perpetrated; so also was the following: Two eminent members of the Irish bar, Doyle and Yelverton, quarreled one day, so violently, that from hard words they came to hard blows. Doyle, the more powerful of the two (at the fists at least) knocked down his antagonist twice vehemently exclaiming: 'You scoundrel, I'll make you behave like a gentleman.' To which Yelverton, rising, replied with equal indignation: 'No, sir, never. I defy you. I defy you! You could not do it!'

Again, a poor Irish lad complaining of the harsh behavior of his father, declares he just treats him as if he were his son by another father and mother.

The following piece of naivette was uttered in a shop in a market town in the county of Cavan by a poor Irishwoman: 'What is your ten-penny ribbon a yard?' she enquired. 'A shilling ma'am,' was the rather paradoxical reply. 'Very well; then,' said our friend, 'nick it at that.'

Not to be outdone, an Irish paper announces, not many weeks since, the death of a poor deaf man called Gaff. He had been run over by a locomotive, and adds the paper, 'he received a similar injury this time last year.'

FIRST RIDE ON A RAILROAD. A story is told of an old lady who lived near Rochester, who had never seen or traveled on a railroad. Wanting to go on a visit to a small town a short distance from the city, she thought she would try one of the pesky things. So she went to the ticket office, carrying her reticule on one arm and an old fashioned rocking chair on the other. She bought her ticket, walked out on the platform, put down her rocking chair, sat down in it, took out her knitting and went to work diligently. Steadily she rocked and worked, trains coming in and leaving as the car time came around. The old lady made no attempt to get on the cars but kept knitting.

The day drew to a close, and night came on. The last train was about starting, when the depot master went up and asked her if she was going out.

'Yes, sir, replies the old lady.

'Hadn't you better get aboard and secure a seat?' said the depot master.

'Thank you, sir, I am very comfortable, replied the elderly dame.

The train left. The master came round again. 'Madam, I shall have to disturb you; it is late, the trains have all left, and we must close the depot. Shall I send you to a hotel?'

Well exclaimed the old lady dropping her knitting and holding up her hands, 'ain't the thing going to move! Here I brought my chair from home so as to have a seat on which some pesky man couldn't squeeze himself. I've sot here all day waitin' for the thing to go, and here I've had all my trouble for nothing. I thought it was a long time moving. I declare that these here railroads is the biggest nuisance and humbug as ever was!' and the old lady, with bag on one arm and rocking chair on the other, gave a toss of her head and marched off in high indignation.

"STRONG IN DEATH. Many persons have a passion for "dying rich, even if they live poor to accomplish it. It was so with one of the colored cooks of the wrecked California steamer, Golden Gate, who took advantage of the panic to get together such loose gold and silver as the panic-stricken passengers had left in their state-rooms and cabins, and filling a couple of good-sized carpet-bags with them, he took one in each hand, and a carving knife in his teeth, and jumped overboard. Did he swim ashore with his booty? What a question! The person who reported the incident, declared that "he anchored himself alongside the wreck, and didn't so much as show his nose above water!" At all events, he did what hundreds more of his fellow creatures labor a life-time to do—he died well off in a pecuniary point of view."

NOT TO BE KICKED. About twenty years ago, Abram Doolitt was transplanted from Harvard University to one of the Southern States, for the purpose of assuming the editorial control of a party paper, where no one ever labored with less advantage for the party simply because an infinite quantity of pistols and a multiplicity of bowie knives prevented the advocacy of certain principles and fettered the freedom of speech in a style perhaps not so elegant as efficacious. Doolittle was a Connecticut Yankee. He was highly educated, impetuous, brave, yet—with the characteristic cunning of his race—careful of his own interests. He took hold of the paper with a determination to make it serviceable to that end, and serviceable he did make it. The opposing candidate was a bad fellow—a duellist, a dram-drinker, a lover of "poker" and a decided votary of Venus. Doolittle dared what no other editor had dared before him. The day on which his article appeared, the candidate entered the editorial chamber.

"You are Doolittle, the editor of this paper?" holding a copy of the sheet in his hand.

"I am."

"You have libelled and insulted me" and (drawing a knife) "I have come for your ears."

"Very well," said Doolittle. "I am a stranger to your customs and perhaps have taken a license which, in this part of the country, is inexcusable. Such is, I think, the fact; suppose we compromise the matter."

"Very well," said the bluff Southerner; "I'll kick you and you shall make a full retraction."

"You'll what?" said Doolittle, quietly.

"Kick you."

"You insist upon that little privilege?"

"I am unalterably fixed in my determination."

"So am I," said Doolittle firing, horse pistol, big as a blunderbuss, and shattering the Southerner's right leg—"not to be kicked."

He held his situation six months; was stabbed twice shot three times, belabored with a bludgeon once, thrown into a pond once, but he was never kicked. During his six months experience he killed two of his adversaries.—These are facts.

It is the hardest duty required of us to be patient in tribulation. When everything goes well with us, when the sun is bright, when all things good are within our grasp, then it is very easy for us to love God, to call life a blessing, to say that we are grateful and happy; but let a storm come, let our property go, or our health depart, or the light of our eyes be taken from us, then it is a difficult matter for us to feel just as we did when the days were bright. Then we feel tempted to say, "God is unjust; this is no boon: everything goes against us." But the one who can keep contented under blows as under gifts; who can praise God in the cloud as well as in the sunshine, who is always the same, unmoved and calm, come what will so long as the message is from God,—that one is very nearly, if not quite a saint.

A good many years ago when Gen. Cass was a leader among Democrats, and consequently an object of dislike to the Whigs, it was moved in the Legislature of a Western State to bestow the name of Cass on a new county. A Whig, meaning to be sarcastic, rose and moved as an amendment that the first letter of the proposed name be struck out! The laugh was on his side hugely until the Democrat retorted that he might not have any objection, but that it was very unusual for a member to rise and propose that a county in the State should be named after himself! and then the other side had the laugh.

The Rev. Mr.—A was more eminent in his day for the brilliancy of his imagination than the force of his logic. At one time he was preaching on "The Ministration of Angels," and in the peroration he suddenly observed: "I hear a whisper!" The change of tone startled the deacon, who sat below, from a drowsy mood, and springing to his feet he spoke: "I guess it is the boys in the gallery."

PENOBSCOT MUTUAL

FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY,

BANGOR, MAINE.

OFFICE,—Corner of Hammond and Central Streets.

Incorporated 1836.

THIS COMPANY IS WHOLLY MUTUAL. It is strictly a Benevolent Institution for Mutual Protection.

This Company being purely Mutual, insures at the lowest possible rates. The members in reality insure each other, and the accumulated assets are held by the Company in trust, to meet its obligations to them.

Among the many reasons why this Company deserves the liberal support and patronage which it has attained, are the following:—

It offers the most ample and undoubted security to its members. It possesses over $230,000,

IN RELIABLE ASSETS.

The business of the Company is confined exclusively to Fire Insurance. The Assets, in proportion to the amount at risk, are probably greater than those of any Established Company in the United States. It has always adjusted and settled its losses with prompt-ness and liberality. It is economical in its business. Its Directors are well known—they are men of wealth, reliability, and integrity. It being purely a Maine Institution—other things being equal—entitles it to a preference over Foreign Corporations.

This Company will continue as heretofore to insure persons against

THE

BEST COOKING STOVE,

IN THE MARKET.

"PEERLESS," FOR COAL OR WOOD.

THE "PEERLESS" has all the advantages of the popular stoves in use, together with such NEW FEATURES as justify the manufacturers in calling it the BEST COOKING STOVE in the market.

It is the "PEERLESS," because it is superior to all other Cooking Stoves in Economy, Simplicity, Cleanliness, Baking, Roasting and Beauty.

1st. ECONOMY. Adopted method of heating the air and conveying it through the oven, saves from one third to thirty per cent. of fuel.

2d. SIMPLICITY. It is easily managed. The fire can be perfectly controlled, and kept through an entire season without rekindling.

3d. CLEANLINESS. No dust escapes while shaking or cleaning the grate.

4th. BAKING. Its large oven, wherein all parts are of equal temperature, bakes as evenly as a brick oven, and that without turning the article. It bakes quickly. It will bake upon the oven rack quickly, evenly and well at the same time the oven bottom is fully employed in baking or roasting.

5th. ROASTING. A current of hot air constantly passes through the oven, so thoroughly ventilates it, that it roasts as well as in an open kitchen.

6th. BEAUTY. Made of the best iron, it will not crack. Well mounted, artistically designed and smoothly cast, it is the most beautiful as well as the most practical stove in the market.

Each stove is WARRANTED to be and to do all that is claimed for it.

OVER THE RIVER.

Over the river they beckon to me—
Loved ones who've crossed to the further side;
The gleam of their snowy robes I see,
But their voices are lost by the dashing tide.
There's one with ringlets of sunny gold,
And eyes, the reflection of Heaven's own hue;
He crossed in the twilight gray and cold,
And the pale mist hid him from mortal view.
We saw not the angel that met him there,
The gate of the city we could not see;
Over the river, over the river,
My brother stands waiting to welcome me!

Over the river the boatman pale
Carried another, the household pet;
Her brown curls waved in the gentle gale—
Darling Minnie! I see her yet!
She crossed on her bosom her dimpled hands,
And fearlessly entered the phantom bark;
We watched it glide from the silver sands,
And all our sunshine grew strangely dark.
We know she is safe on the further side,
Where all the ransomed and angels be;
Over the river, the mystic river,
My childhood's idol is waiting for me.

For none return from those quiet shores
Who cross with the boatman cold and pale;
We hear the dip of the golden oars,
And catch a gleam of the snowy sail;
And lo! they have passed from our yearning hearts—
They cross the stream and are gone for aye;
We may not sunder the veil apart
That hides from our vision the gates of day.
We only know that their barks no more
May sail with us o'er life's stormy sea,
Yet somewhere, I know on the unseen shore,
They watch and beckon, and wait for me!

And I sit and think when the sunsets' gold
Is flushing river, and hill, and shore,
I shall one day stand by the water cold,
And list for the sound of the boatman's oar;
I shall watch for a gleam of the flapping sail;
I shall hear the boat as it gains the strand;
I shall pass from sight with the boatman pale,
To the better shore of the spirit land.
I shall know the loved who have gone before,
And joyfully sweet will the meeting be,
When over the river, the peaceful river,
The Angel of Death shall carry me.

A Herd of Bulls. One of the richest specimens of a real Irish bull which has ever fallen under our notice, was perpertated by the clever and witty, but blundering Irish knight, Sir Richard Steele, when inviting a certain English nobleman to visit him. 'If, sir,' said he, 'you ever come within a mile of my house, I hope you will stay there!' Another by the same gentleman is well worth recording. Being asked how he accounted for his countrymen making so many bulls, he replied. "I cannot tell if it is not the effect of the climate. I fancy if an Englishman was born in Ireland, he would make as many." The same laughable train of thought seems to have seized upon a countryman of this Irish tiberateur, who exceedingly enjoyed the apple pie which was flavored with a few green gooseberries, exclaimed, 'Ah, what a darling of an apple pie it would be if it were all made of green gooseberries!'

A rich bull is recorded of an Irishman at cards, who, on inspecting the pool, found it deficient: 'Here is a shilling short,' said he, 'who put it in?'

This bull was actually perpertrated; so also was the following: Two eminent members of the Irish bar, Doyle and Yelverton, quarreled one day, so violently, that from hard words they came to hard blows. Doyle, the more powerful of the two (at the fists at least) knocked down his antagonist twice vehemently exclaiming: 'You scoundrel, I'll make you behave like a gentleman.' To which Yelverton, rising, replied with equal indignation: 'No, sir, never. I defy you, I defy you! You could not do it!'

Again, a poor Irish lad complaining of the harsh behavior of his father, declares he just treats him as if he were his son by another father and mother.

The following piece of naivette was uttered in a shop in a market town in the county of Cavan by a poor Irishwoman: 'What is your ten-penny ribbon a yard?' she enquired. 'A shilling ma'am,' was the rather paradoxical reply. 'Very well; then,' said our friend, 'nick it at that.'

Not to be outdone, an Irish paper announces, not many weeks since, the death of a poor deaf man called Gaff. He had been run over by a locomotive, and adds the paper, 'he received a similar injury this time last year.'

First Ride on a Railroad. A story is told of an old lady who lived near Rochester, who had never seen or traveled on a railroad. Wanting to go on a visit to a small town a short distance from the city, she thought she would try one of the pesky things. So she went to the ticket office, carrying her reticule on one arm and an old fashioned rocking chair on the other. She bought her ticket, walked out on the platform, put down her rocking chair, sat down in it, took out her knitting and went to work diligently. Steadily she rocked and worked, trains coming in and leaving as the car time came around. The old lady made no attempt to get on the cars but kept knitting.

The day drew to a close, and night came on. The last train was about starting, when the depot master went up and asked her if she was going out.

'Yes, sir, replies the old lady.

'Hadn't you better get aboard and secure a seat?' said the depot master.

'Thank you, sir, I am very comfortable,' replied the elderly dame.

The train left. The master came round again. 'Madam, I shall have to disturb you; it is late, the trains have all left, and we must close the depot. Shall I send you to a hotel?'

'Well exclaimed the old lady, dropping her knitting and holding up her hands, ain't the thing going to move? Here I brought my chair from home so as to have a seat on which some pesky man couldn't squeeze himself. I've set here all day waitin' for the thing to go, and here I've had all my trouble for nothing. I thought it was a long time moving. I declare that these here railroads is the biggest nuisance and humbug as ever was!' and the old lady, with bag on one arm and rocking chair on the other, gave a toss of her head and marched off in high indignation.

"Strong in Death." Many persons have a passion for "dying rich," even if they live poor to accomplish it. It was so with one of the colored cooks of the wrecked California steamer, Golden Gate, who took advantage of the panic to get together such loose gold and silver as the panic-stricken passengers had left in their state-rooms and cabins, and filling a couple of good-sized carpet-bags with them, he took one in each hand, and a carving knife in his teeth, and jumped overboard. Did he swim ashore with his booty? What a question! The person who reported the incident, declared that "he anchored himself alongside the wreck, and didn't so much as show his nose above water!" At all events, he did what hundreds more of his fellow creatures labor a life-time to do—he died "well off in a pecuniary point of view."

Not to be Kicked. About twenty years ago, Abram Doolittle was transplanted from Harvard University to one of the Southern States, for the purpose of assuming the editorial control of a party paper, where no one ever labored with advantage for the party simply because an infinite quantity of pistols and a multiplicity of bowie-knives prevented the advocacy of certain principles and fettered the freedom of speech in a style perhaps not so elegant as efficacious. Doolittle was a Connecticut exotic. He was highly educated, impetuous, brave, yet—with the characteristic cunning of his race—careful of his own interest. He took hold of the paper with a determination to make it serviceable to the cause, and serviceable he did make it. The opposing candidate was a bad fellow, a bully, a dram-drinker, a lover of [illegible] and a decided votary of Venus. Doolittle said what no other editor had dared—he said so. The day on which his article appeared, the candidate entered the editorial chamber.

"You are Doolittle, the editor of this paper?" holding a copy of the sheet in his hands.

"I am".

"You have libelled and insulted me' and" (drawing a knife) "I have come for your ears."

"Very well," said Doolittle. "I am a stranger to your customs and perhaps have taken a license which, in this part of the country, is inexcusable. Such is, I think, the fact; suppose we compromise the matter."

"Very well" said the bluff Southerner; I'll kick you and you shall make a full retraction."

"You'll what?" said Doolittle, quietly.

"Kick you."

"You insist upon that little privilege?"

"I am unalterably fixed in my determination."

"So am I" said Doolittle firing, horse pistol, big as a blunderbuss, and shattering the Southerner's right leg—"not to be kicked."

He held his situation six months; was stabbed twice shot three times, belabored with a bludgeon once, thrown into a pond once, but he was never kicked. During his six months experience he killed two of his adversaries.—These are facts.

It is the hardest duty required of us to be patient in tribulation. When everything goes well with us, when the sun is bright, when all things good are within our grasp, then it is very easy for us to love God, to call life a blessing, to say that we are grateful and happy; but let a storm come, let our property go, or our health depart, or the light of our eyes be taken from us, then it is a difficult matter for us to feel just as we did when the days were bright. Then we feel tempted to say, "God is unjust; this is no boon: everything goes against us." But the one who can keep contented under blows as under gifts; who can praise God in the cloud as well as in the sunshine; who is always the same, unmoved and calm, come what will so long as the message is from God,—that one is very nearly, if not quite a saint.

A good many years ago when Gen. Cass was a leader among Democrats, and consequently an object of dislike to the Whigs, it was moved in the Legislature of a Western State to bestow the name of Cass' on a new county. A Whig, meaning to be sarcastic, rose and moved as an amendment that the first letter of the proposed name be struck out! The laugh was on his side hugely until the Democrat retorted that he might not have any objection, but that it was very unusual for a member to rise and propose that a county in the State should be named after himself! and then the other side had the laugh.

The Rev. Mr.—A was more eminent in his day for the brilliancy of his imagination than the force of his logic. At one time he was preaching on "The Ministration of Angels," and in the peroration he suddenly observed: "I hear a whisper!" The change of tone startled the deacon, who sat below, from a drowsy mood, and springing to his feet he spoke: 'I guess it is the boys in the gallery.'

PENOBSCOT MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY,

BANGOR, MAINE.

OFFICE,—Corner of Hammond and Central Streets.

Incorporated 1836.

THIS COMPANY IS WHOLLY MUTUAL. It is strictly a Benevolent Institution for Mutual Protection.

This Company being purely Mutual, insures at the lowest possible rates. The members in reality insure each other, and the accumulated assets are held by the Company in trust, to meet its obligations to them.

Among the many reasons why this Company deserves the liberal support and patronage which it has attained, are the following:—

It offers the most ample and undoubted security to its members. It possesses over $230,000,

IN RELIABLE ASSETS.

The business of the Company is confined exclusively to Fire Insurance. The Assets, in proportion to the amount at risk, are probably greater than those of any Established Company in the United States. It has always adjusted and settled its losses with promptness and liberality. It is economical in its business. Its Directors are well known—they are men of wealth, reliability, and integrity. It, being purely a Maine Institution—other things being equal—entitles it to a preference over Foreign Corporations.

This Company will continue as heretofore to insure persons against

SNOW POWDER

Patented May 29, 1866.

This is an article for washing without rubbing, except in very dirty places, which will require a very slight rub, and unlike other preparations offered for a like purpose, WILL NOT ROT THE CLOTHES, but will leave them much WHITER than ordinary methods, without the usual wear and tear.

It removes grease spots as if by magic, and softens the dirt by soaking, so that rinsing will in ordinary cases entirely remove it.

This powder is prepared in accordance with chemical science, and upon a process peculiar to itself, which is secured by Letters Patent. It has been in use for more than a year, and has proved itself an universal favorite wherever it has been used.—Among the advantages claimed are the following, viz:—

It saves all the expense of soap usually used on cotton and linen goods.

It saves most of the labor of rubbing, and wear and tear.

Also, for cleaning windows it is unsurpassed.—With one quarter the time and labor usually required it imparts a beautiful gloss and lustre, much superior to any other mode. No water required except to moisten the powder.

Directions with each package.

And can be readily appreciated by a single trial. The cost of washing for a family of five or six persons will not exceed THREE CENTS.

The manufacturers of this powder are aware that many useless compounds have been introduced to the public which have rotted the cloth, or failed in removing the dirt, but knowing the intrinsic excellence of this article, they confidently proclaim it as being adapted to meet a demand which has long existed, and which has heretofore remained unsupplied. THE

BEST COOKING STOVE,

IN THE MARKET.

"PEERLESS," FOR COAL OR WOOD.

THE "PEERLESS" has all the advantages of the popular stoves in use, together with such NEW FEATURES as justify the manufacturers in calling it the BEST COOKING STOVE in the market.

It is the "PEERLESS," because it is superior to all other Cooking Stoves in Economy, Simplicity, Cleanliness, Baking, Roasting and Beauty.

1st. Economy. A patented method of heating the air and conveying it through the oven, saves from twenty to thirty per cent. of fuel.

2d. Simplicity. It is easily managed. The fire can be perfectly controlled, and kept through an entire season without rekindling.

3d. Cleanliness. No dust escapes while shaking or dumping the grate.

4th. Baking. Its large oven, wherein all parts are of equal temperature, bakes as evenly as a brick oven, and that without turning the article. It bakes quickly. It will bake upon the oven rack quickly, evenly and well at the same time the oven bottom is fully employed in baking or roasting.

5th. Roasting. A current of hot air constantly passing through the oven, so thoroughly ventilates it, that it roasts as well as a tin kitchen.

6th. Beauty. Made of the best iron, it will not crack. Well mounted, artistically designed and smoothly cast, it is the most beautiful as well as the most serviceable stove in the market.

Each stove is WARRANTED to be and to do all that is claimed for it.

Pensions!---Bounty!

(NEW LAW!)

Important to all Soldiers!

PENSIONS INCREASED.

I AM AUTHORIZED BY LAW, TO OBTAIN an INCREASE of Pension from

$8 to $15 Per Month,

For every Soldier who lost a hand or foot in the army, or who is disabled by wounds or sickness equal to the loss of a hand or foot.

Also—An INCREASE OF PENSION for other classes, and for dependent fathers and brothers.—Full information given by calling on the subscriber.

BOUNTIES EQUALIZED!

This Law has passed the House and will become a law in a few days—when all the early soldiers of the war, and their widows and heirs, shall have their just due.

☞ Apply early, either in person or by letter, at the OLD WAR CLAIM AGENCY of

C. P. BROWN,

June 18th, 1866.—d&wtf BANGOR.

Special Notice

To Soldiers and Seamen!!

The Law Has Passed!

Bounties Equalized.

Justice Done the Early Soldiers and Seamen of the War, their Widows and Heirs.

NOTICE has been sent me from Washington, that the Law equalizing the bounty to Soldiers and Seaman was passed Saturday last, July 28th, by Congress.

I am now authorized and prepared to collect this Bounty for every Soldier and Seaman entitled, also for their Widows and Heirs.

☞ Application made personally at my office, or by mail,—the discharge of the Soldier or Seaman should be handed in—as it must be forwarded with the application.

☞ All applications must be made signed, witnessed and sworn to, AFTER THE PASSAGE OF THIS LAW. Many soldiers have been induced to sign papers before the law passed. This practice is irregular, fraudulent and void, and papers in all such cases must be made over.

☞ Soldiers and Seamen

Call early and get full particulars at the Old War Claim Agency of

C. P. BROWN,

NICHOLS HOUSE.

The undersigned having leased, for a long term, and thoroughly renovated and refitted the Nichols House (late "Dwinel House") in Bangor, has this day re-opened the same to the public accommodation.

This Hotel is centrally located, and in close proximity with the Boats and Cars.

The Proprietor has had a long experience in the "Parker House," of East Corinth, and the "Shaw House," of Newport, and flatters himself that to all patrons he will furnish an agreeable and comfortable home. Every effort and expense will be used to make this House as popular and attractive as any in this section of the State.

☞ Livery Stable connected with the House.
☞ Coaches in readiness for any business at all hours.

Stages leave this House daily for all parts of the country.
